California's Snowstorms Begin Retreat

Worst Since 1949 Hits Southern Part; Highways Blocked

By The Associated Press

California's heaviest metropolitan snowstorms in years began a retreat to the 2,000-foot level in the mountains today, leaving a trail of blocked highways, closed schools, flooded intersections and melting snowmen.

Flakes at the Los Angeles Civic Center, flurries on Palos Verdes Peninsula and several inches of snow in higher suburban areas were but a sample of what made Southern Californians shiver—and kids whoop with delight—Monday.

San Francisco's heaviest snow in 75 years kept Northern California cold, too, though Bing Crosby's golf tournament on the Monterey Peninsula dug out and finished play.

The weatherman forecast near-blizzards in mountain areas just north of Los Angeles but said downtown temperatures might be slightly warmer than Monday's

Levy Planned For Retarded

Two-Tenths Mill's Sought By County

LISBON — Columbiana County Commissioners Monday afternoon voted to place a two-tenths mill levy on the May 8 primary ballot for the operation of the Retarded Children's School at Elkton.

The school is operated under the direction of the County Welfare Department. The levy, which would be for three years, was recommended by the Board of Directors of the retarded children's program.

It would provide the salaries of four teachers, four bus drivers and a janitor and for the operation of four buses, building maintenance, equipment for a workshop and school supplies.

Board members are W. E. Hiscox of Lisbon, chairman, John Billiter of Salem, Hubert Lawrence of Columbiana, Mrs. Virginia McDaniel of East Liverpool and Mrs. Shirley Hiscox of Lisbon.

The operation of the school was turned over to the Welfare Department this year by the State Legislature. Previously th money needed to operate the school was raised by fund drives.

The Kyes Memorial Home at East Palestine has been closed to provide necessary funds for the operation of the school.

In other business, commissioners voted not to allow travel allowances if the money must be taken from the general fund.

They approved a travel allowance for Mrs. Betty Hendricks to attend the Tuberculosis Clinic and the 1962 planning conference on tuberculosis at Columbus Jan. 30-Feb. 2. The money will be taken from the tuberculosis levy passed four years ago.

The payroll for county highway workers was approved. The commissioners will meet again Thursday from 10 a. m. to 4 p. m.

Astronaut Unruffled

Technicians Toil On Oxygen Setup

CAPE CANAVERAL, Fla. (AP) —Space technicians, racing a new deadline, worked today to assure astronaut John H. Glenn Jr. a foolproof oxygen supply when he vaults into orbit.

As they replaced two key parts in the oxygen system, an apparently unruffled Glenn paced his own preparations for his rocket ride about the earth now planned, hopefully, for Saturday.

The National Aeronautics and Space Administration said late Monday the fourth postponemnt of this first orbital flight by an American was caused by trouble in the all-important oxygen system in th 4,000-pound spacecraft.

The technicians, working on the capsule atop a mighty silver Atlas rocket, were installing a new hose and a new device which regulates the oxygen flow into the astronaut's helmet.

NASA officials declined to say how long it would take to repair the oxygen system. After that job is done, the technicians must make painstaking checks to be certain the trouble has been licked.

NASA spokesmen refused to speculate how much more of a delay would be required if the shot cannot meet its Saturday target date.

Glenn, 40, a Marine lieutenant colonel, altered his preflight routine in one way—he temporarily abandoned a low-waste diet to which he shifted on Sunday in anticipation of a takeoff Wednesday morning.

His day Monday was a full one.

Wearing his silver-coated pressure suit, Glenn "flew" a simulated 12 miles to the hospital at Patrick Air Force Base. There, he underwent the first half of a detailed preflight physical. Doctors gave him brain wave tests, chcked his eyes, ears, nose and throat and examined his heart.

On Thursday, Glenn will take the other half of an exhaustive physical which NASA officials said is part of the routine planned for this flight.

The space agency hopes Glenn will be able to make three trips around the earth, at an altitude between 100 and 150 miles. Each circuit would last about 90 minutes.

This will depend on the time his rocket blasts off from this spaceport. The determining factor is the amount of daylight available for the efforts to recover the capsule after it returns from space and lands in the Atlantic.

The present blueprint calls for launch about 7:30 a.m. EST. Experience in the two short-range space flights last year points to possible temporary halts during the countdown.

If Glenn can be boosted aloft before about 9:30 a.m., NASA authorities are looking for a three-orbit effort. Should the shot come sometime btween 9:30 and 11:30, the mission would be cut to two orbits. If takeoff is delayed until the following hour, Glenn will try only a single orbit. The shot would be postponed to another day unless it was fired before about 12:30 p.m.

Postal Branch Approved In Calcutta Area

Establishment of a Calcutta contract postal branch at the Potters Lumber Co. in St. Clair Plaza has been approved by the postal department, Postmaster Samuel W. Brown said today.

Brown said he was notified by regional officials in Cincinnati the bid submitted by Richard V. Beatty, president, had been accepted.

The effective date is Feb. 12, which is a legal holiday for the postal department.

Details of the operation, including the hours the branch will be open, haven't been worked out, Beatty said. Branch hours probably will be from 8 a. m. to 5 p. m. daily and 8 a. m. to noon Saturday.

Plans for the branch provide it will offer financial service, consisting of postal money orders, registry, parcel post and stamp sales.

Outgoing mail may be left at the branch, but no mail will be delivered from there, the postmaster said.

NATO Sifts Films From Crashed Jet

Pictures Expected To Prove Pilot Was On Spying Mission

ROME (AP) — NATO experts today were completing development and study of films from the Bulgarian jet that crashed near a secret NATO base in southern Italy. The pictures were expected to prove that the young pilot was on a spy mission.

The Italian Defense Ministry in a communique Monday said a "final judgment on the nature of the episode" could not be given yet. But it said there were "indications of a true and proper case of aerial espionage" which needed only to be "further substantiated."

One high Italian government official went farther.

"We can say now that the mission of the Bulgarian aircraft was unfriendly," he said. "We expect to state flatly in the next few days that the plane was flying a spy mission."

A Defense Ministry source predicted that the Bulgarian pilot, Lt. Milusc Solakov, 22, would be put on trial by the Italians for espionage, as American U2 pilot Francis Gary Powers was by the Russians.

If convicted of espionage, Solakov could get 5 to 15 years in prison. The Russians sentenced Powers to 10 years.

Solakov was held under guard at the civil hospital at Acquaviva. Italian intelligence officers planned to start questioing him after he is transferred to a military hospital in Bari. Doctors said he was recovering from fractures of the left collar bone and left arm and a head concussion, but the fractures were complex and it would be awhile before he could be transferred.

The Defense Ministry communique said Solakov, after he was pulled from the wreckage of his jet Saturday, "said that he escaped from Bulgaria in order to evade the political regime of that country" and "asked not to be put into contact with Bulgarian diplomatic authorities in Italy."

An authoritative Foreign Ministry source commented that "the fact that the pilot asked for political asylum does not change the nature of his mission."

Senate Probe Opens

Extensive And Stormy Probe Seen

Investigators Say McNamara Refused To Release Talks

WASHINGTON (AP) — Senate investigators, opening their investigation into charges the Pentagon muzzles anti-Communist speeches by military officers, disclosed today they have obtained evidence Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara declined to give them.

The evidence: the identity of censors who blue-penciled specific speeches.

The disclosure came as the special Senate Armed Services subcommittee called Adm. Arleigh A. Burke, former chief of naval operations, as leadoff witness in what could be long and stormy hearings.

Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., a subcommittee member and the man whose accusations set off the inquiry, confirmed that the subcommittee had the evidence.

McNamara had declined publicly to tell which Defense Department censors made changes in the prepared texts of military men's speeches. He based his refusal on a contention that as Pentagon chief he alone should bear the responsibility.

McNamara did provide a list of the names of 14 censors, without disclosing which had handled specific speeches. Thurmond said subcommittee investigators had obtained that information by checking with the censors themselves.

Thurmond said it seems "they were merely carrying out orders." He said some of them would be witnesses at later hearings.

Thurmond set off the investigation with a series of Senate talks charging that anti-Communist phrases had been stricken from many speeches by censors.

Thurmond told a reporter in advance of the hearings: "I think the President should have taken action before now to stop this muzzling. I don't mean just the Kennedy administration — this practice goes back through several administrations. But this (censoring) has been stepped up in this administration."

Seeks To Convince Latin Allies

U.S. Fights Uphill Battle To Close Ranks On Castro

PUNTA DEL ESTE, Uruguay, (AP)—The United States fought an uphill battle today in an effort to convince its big Latin-American allies to close ranks against the threat of Castro communism and give the Alliance for Progres program a chance to cure the hemisphere's dangerous economic ills.

President Kennedy's team faced an array of conflicting fears and aspirations that produced at least a temporary deadlock on what to do about Cuban Prime Minister Fidel Castro's regime. The United States apparently abandoned any hope of unanimity of the 20 nations on strong collective anti-Castro punishment and sought to salvage at least a forthright majority condemnation of the Cuban Communist regime.

The deadlock involved sharp differences of approach between big Latin-American nations advocating a soft policy toward Cuba and smaller ones feeling Castro pressure acutely and anxious for quick, positive action.

The impasse plunged the foreign ministers of the Organization of American States into complex quarrels that clearly threatened hemispheric unity. However, hopes were expressed that the broad differences of opinion would be glossed over by some compromise formula.

At Brazil's urging, today's formal sessions were pushed back until 8 p.m. to permit another round of hotel room bargaining. The Brazilian and Argentine delegations arranged a number of sessions in the hope a steady exchange of ideas would bring a meeting of minds, particularly with the smaller nations urging strong action against Cuba.

As others wrangled, the Cubans remained in the background, more and more confident they would emerge from the meeting unpunished.

In Havana, Castro predicted failure for the conference. He declared in a TV speech Monday night that Cuba would never accept "sanctions or condemning declarations" from the Inter-American conference. He asserted that any anti-Cuban action taken by the OAS might be a spark igniting revolutions throughout the hemisphere.

Argentina seemed to be gaining more support for a compromise formula envisioning denunciation of Castro but short of such mandatory collective punishment as the rupture of diplomatic and economic relations.

Evidently attempting to salvage at least a minimum objective, the United States quietly placed its authority behind the Argentine approach. Anything less than condemnation of Cuba would dim President Kennedy's chances of getting the initial $3-billion appropriation he seeks from Congress for the Alliance for Progress.

The Brazilians doggedly sought backing for the notion that the OAS would defeat its own purposes and drive Cuba irrevocably into the Soviet camp unless the Castro regime is given a chance to assume an entirely neutralist position in inter-American affairs.

Haiti dealt a stiff blow to hopes for penalties against Cuba. Any action requires a two-third majority—14 of the 21 members. As one of the 13 OAS members which has broken ties with Cuba, Haiti was counted on to back strong action. Haiti suddenly switched to the side of such big nations as Argentina, Brazil, Mexico and Chile in advocating a soft approach. On the other side, Guatemala, an advocate of strong penalties, threatened to walk out of the conference if Cuba gets nothing more than a reprimand. The five other Central American nations were reported in a like mood.

Youth Confesses Passing Checks

A 19-year-old East Palestine area youth accused of passing 21 bad checks for a total of approximately $700 in five Columbiana County communities and two in Mahoning County is scheduled for a preliminary hearing Wednesday at 9 a. m. before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Daniel Matthews of East Palestine R. D. 1, an unemployed construction worker, was nabbed Monday at 1:40 p. m. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith after he allegedly returned an auto to a downtown garage, took off the license plates and vanished on foot.

Police said Matthews was returning an auto which he had purchased earlier with one in the string of bad checks.

Matthews has confessed to passing nine bad checks in East Liverpool, four in East Palestine, two at Wellsville and one each in Columbiana and Lisbon, police said. In addition, he admitted to cashing four bad checks in Youngstown, officers said.

Matthews was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an affidavit alleging specifically that he passed a bad check for $25 on Nov. 15 at the Loblaw Market. The charge was filed Dec. 12 by William Good, a store official.

Since that time, police had been on the lookout for Matthews and when they learned yesterday afternoon that he had been spotted in the downtown area he was picked up, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said.

After being alerted in the tip from the garage, Officer Smith started a search for Matthews and found him on foot at E. 6th St. and Broadway, police said. The plates he had removed from the car were found bent and discarded in Welch alley, officers said.

When arraigned today, Mat-

Excellent Student, Glenn's Flying Instructors Say

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

NEW PHILADELPHIA — The man handling the faded manila folder, containing a thin sheaf of papers, did so with considerable care.

It was almost as if he thought the folder and its contents belonged in the Smithsonian Institution.

And I think maybe it does.

The papers made up the complete flight record file of Astronaut John Glenn from April 14, 1941, when he took his first flying lesson, to July 1, 1941, the day he got his private pilot's license.

AND IF JOHN'S orbital flight around the earth is completed without a hitch, certainly much of his personal history will be preserved for posterity, in one form or another, in the Smithsonian Institution in the nation's capital.

Harry Clever, manager of the New Philadelphia Airport and the man who gave Astronaut Glenn his first seven flying lessons, says John's flight record exists today because of fate and an efficient former secretary.

Mr. Clever, who still does occasional commercial flying, said he doesn't know why the thousands of old Civilian Pilot Training Program records weren't destroyed long ago.

"THESE OLD FILES, which I just happened to keep, were stored in cartons down in the basement in the boiler room," he explained. "I wouldn't have known where to begin to look for John's record," he said.

It was Miss Jeanette Jenkins an employe in the Timken Roller Bearing Co. office here, who du up the flight record. Miss Jenkins was in charge of the CP office at the airport 20 years ago

WHAT DOES his first flight record reveal about John Glenn, then just 19 years old?

It shows that his ground school work at Muskingum College in New Concord was, in Harry Clever's words, "darn good — above average." John scored "A" in all three subjects: meteorology, 88; navigation, 88; civil air regulations, 90.

His grades in flying also were above average. He scored 2s and 1s when 4 was average.

Mr. Clever, who issued the private pilot's license to John, recalls that as a pupil John was eager to learn, relaxed, alert nd had good coordination."

ANOTHER of John's early instructors, Wallace Spotts, who resides near Reedsburg in Ashland County, described the future astronaut as "apt and conscientious."

Mr. Spotts, who is a service representative with North American Van Lines in Wooster, recalls that young Glenn was "an exceptional student and very sincere."

He told me he had been impressed by John's attitude as a student.

"It was very good," he said, "and showed evidence of considerable parental influence for the good. He knew how to take hold of things and do them."

I ASKED Mr. Spotts if he recalled anything special happening while they were in the air together during those early flights.

"Only that John always was very calm," the former instructor replied. "He was not a bit more excited the day he soloed than he was the day before.

"I think it's very important that you point out that about 90 per cent of the credit for what John has become is due to John, himself, and about 10 per cent to

Youth Confesses Passing Checks

A 19-year-old East Palestine area youth accused of passing 21 bad checks for a total of approximately $700 in five Columbiana County communities and two in Mahoning County is scheduled for a preliminary hearing Wednesday at 9 a. m. before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff.

Daniel Matthews of East Palestine R. D. 1, an unemployed construction worker, was nabbed Monday at 1:40 p. m. by Patrolman Orin C. Smith after he allegedly returned an auto to a downtown garage, took off the license plates and vanished on foot.

Police said Matthews was returning an auto which he had purchased earlier with one in the string of bad checks.

Matthews has confessed to passing nine bad checks in East Liverpool, four in East Palestine, two at Wellsville and one each in Columbiana and Lisbon, police said. In addition, he admitted to cashing four bad checks in Youngstown, officers said.

Matthews was arraigned today before Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff on an affidavit alleging specifically that he passed a bad check for $25 on Nov. 15 at the Loblaw Market. The charge was filed Dec. 12 by William Good, a store official.

Since that time, police had been on the lookout for Matthews and when they learned yesterday afternoon that he had been spotted in the downtown area he was picked up, Chief Americo J. Radeschi said.

After being alerted in the tip from the garage, Officer Smith started a search for Matthews and found him on foot at E. 6th St. and Broadway, police said. The plates he had removed from the car were found bent and discarded in Welch alley, officers said.

When arraigned today, Mat-

Excellent Student, Glenn's Flying Instructors Say

By AL SIMPSON
Brush-Moore Staff Writer

NEW PHILADELPHIA — The man handling the faded manila folder, containing a thin sheaf of papers, did so with considerable care.

It was almost as if he thought the folder and its contents belonged in the Smithsonian Institution.

And I think maybe it does.

Last In A Series

The papers made up the complete flight record file of Astronaut John Glenn from April 14, 1941, when he took his first flying lesson, to July 1, 1941, the day he got his private pilot's license.

AND IF JOHN'S orbital flight around the earth is completed without a hitch, certainly much of his personal history will be preserved for posterity, in one form or another, in the Smithsonian Institution in the nation's capital.

Harry Clever, manager of the New Philadelphia Airport and the man who gave Astronaut Glenn his first seven flying lessons, says John's flight record exists today because of fate and an efficient former secretary.

Mr. Clever, who still does occasional commercial flying, said he doesn't know why the thousands of old Civilian Pilot Training Program records weren't destroyed long ago.

"THESE OLD FILES, which I just happened to keep, were stored in cartons down in the basement in the boiler room," he explained. "I wouldn't have known where to begin to look for John's record," he said.

It was Miss Jeanette Jenkins an employe in the Timken Roller Bearing Co. office here, who dug up the flight record. Miss Jenkins was in charge of the CPT office at the airport 20 years ago

WHAT DOES his first flight record reveal about John Glenn, then just 19 years old?

It shows that his ground school work at Muskingum College in New Concord was, in Harry Clever's words, "darn good — above average." John scored "A" in all three subjects: meteorology, 88; navigation, 88; civil air regulations, 90.

His grades in flying also were above average. He scored 2s and 1s when 4 was average.

Mr. Clever, who issued the private pilot's license to John, recalls that as a pupil John was eager to learn, relaxed, alert and had good coordination."

ANOTHER of John's early instructors, Wallace Spotts, who resides near Reedsburg in Ashland County, described the future astronaut as "apt and conscientious."

Mr. Spotts, who is a service representative with North American Van Lines in Wooster, recalls that young Glenn was "an exceptional student and very sincere."

He told me he had been impressed by John's attitude as a student.

"It was very good," he said, "and showed evidence of considerable parental influence for the good. He knew how to take hold of things and do them."

I ASKED Mr. Spotts if he recalled anything special happening while they were in the air together during those early flights.

"Only that John always was very calm," the former instructor replied. "He was not a bit more excited the day he soloed than he was the day before.

"I think it's very important that you point out that about 90 per cent of the credit for what John has become is due to John, himself, and about 10 per cent to

Payroll, Repairs Mount

City 'Totes Up' Expenses From Recent Snow Storm

There's more than meets the eye, particularly in extra payroll expenses, when a snow-fall such as the one last Friday and Saturday ties up traffic in East Liverpool, Mayor Bert H. Goodballet and Safety - Service Director Robert Owen commented today.

The weather resulted in 127 extra manhours of work for street department crews that will mean $215 more in payroll expense for the financially hard - pressed city, the two officials pointed out.

But there was a far larger item —a repair bill totaling about $600 —after the city's hopper-type ash spreading truck broke down at the outset of the storm, the officials said.

The ancient vintage of most of the snow - fighting equipment accounts for a good deal of the difficulty that arose in what could be considered the first real snowfall of the winter. About 2 inches fell here and more in the rural areas.

The hopper - type ash spreading truck is a 1954 model, as is the highlift used to load ashes onto the trucks. The two 1½-ton model truck used for spreading ashes are 1950 models. The pull-type ash spreaders towed behind the trucks are "much older" than the 1½-ton trucks.

"As soon as the city realized that ashes were needed, the routine of spreading was started," Owen explained. But there was a half-hour delay at the outset because of a breakdown in the highlift.

Then the hopper - type truck also broke down. It carries a tremendous load of ashes which are fed out of its body by and endless - chain device, so it does the bulk of the ashing during a storm. The chain that drives the mechanism was broken, so the truck had to be returned to the garage and unloaded by hand before repairs could be started.

Replacement of the chain cost $164. Additional expenses of the repair ran the overall cost to an estimated $600. The repairs were finished on the hopper truck Saturday noon.

Six additional men worked at ashing the streets until midnight Friday. In all they put in a 15-hour day Friday, or 42 extra manhours.

Eleven men worked Saturday—10 of them a full day — as the ashing work continued, accounting for 85 more extra manhours. Two worked at replacing the broken chain on the hopper truck and the others were on ashing duty. All the work on Saturday was "extra", as normally the street crew is not on duty on Saturday.

The Midland Works of the Crucible Steel Co., realizing the city's plight, provided additional ashes for the city, Owen said. The two 1½-ton trucks normally used for ashing were sent to the mill to pick up cinders, along with another truck borrowed from the incinerator department.

That meant that pickup trucks were used for cindering the streets. Both are 1958 models.

The storm cut far into the city's backlog of ashes, although normally it is able to obtain 18 loads each week from Crucible, Owen said.

"Despite all the effort, we still got complaints that some areas were not ashed or not serviced quickly enough," Owen said. "This can't continue much longer without additional money because our equipment is so old and troublesome."

Continuance Granted In Drink Sale Charge

To permit an official record to be made of the case, Municipal Judge Samuel M. Chertoff today granted a continuance until 9:30 a. m. Wednesday in a hearing for a waitress in a downtown tavern accused of permitting a minor to consume beer and intoxicating liquor.

The defendant is Mrs. Betty Sendling, 722 Dresden Ave., an employe of Gene's Bar on E. 6th, named in two affidavits signed by Patrolman E. R. Furgason. She pleaded not guilty at arraignment Jan. 11 and the case was to have been heard today.

As the case opened, Atty. Ben H. Berman, defense counsel, requested that a stenographer be obtained to make a record of the case. After considerable discussion, the case was continued until tomorrow to permit Mrs. Phyllis Stewart, a court employe, to obtain a stenotype machine on which to make her notes.

'Apt Student,' Flying Aides Say Of Glenn

those of us who worked with him," Mr. Spotts emphasized.

MR. CLEVER, was was the designated flight examiner, gave John his private pilot flight test and was with him on his graduation flight.

Because John was one of the boys authorized to drive the New Philadelphia Airport's station wagon, which transported the future flyers from the Muskingum campus to the airfield, Mr. Clever got to know him better than most of the other students.

The New Philadelphia Airport had the only CAA-approved flying school nearer to New Concord than Columbus and that's why the would-be eagles learned to fly there.

RECALLING that "Glenn was one of the more promising fellows," the airport manager said John kept on coming to New Philadelphia after he completed his course, to keep his proficiency up until he went into the Marine Corps.

One bit of information Harry Clever believes John, himself, won't remember is the preferences the young student indicated in a question about aviation career fields.

John designated the airlines as his No. 1 choice for a flying career. The Navy was No. 2 choice, the Army No. 3, flight instructor was No. 4, and other nonscheduled commercial flying was No. 5.

HE HARDLY could have indicated a predilection for space flight at that time without risking considerabl derision. After all, 1941 predated the German buzz bombs.

As I rose to leave at the conclusion of a most enjoyable interview with the man who started John Glenn's wings sprouting, he asked me if I expected to talk with my astronaut friend at Cape Canaveral. I expressed some doubt about this.

"Well, if you do," he said, tell him we're PROUD of him!"

Wandering Pigs Stir Salineville In Trip To Town

SALINEVILLE — "Are your pigs home?" Steve Sevek of Route 39 asked fellow hog-raiser Joseph Hruby of the Old Lisbon Rd. when Hruby came to his home Monday night.

Hruby was surprised to learn that his four Landrace sows had been wandering around the western section of the downtown area yesterday, rooting in muddy yards and providing a real problem for police and householders.

Police Chief Cleo Mellott said he began receiving telephone calls about the roaming pigs shortly after noon, and he and Deputy Marshal Jay Carter went to round them up.

Sevek volunteered to help corral the hogs, which weigh about 200 pounds and which apparently had wandered some three miles from their home sty.

William Brown of Jefferson St. allowed the use of a garage into which the quartet was herded, then Sevek backed up his truck to the garage, a ramp was provided, and the hogs were hauled off to Sevek's farm.

Sevek and police made calls throughout the area to learn the owner, without success. Sevek had felt that the hogs were not Hruby's.

So when the surprised Hruby made the identification last night, Sevek's eyebrows were raised almost as far as the village residents who first spotted the long white porcine visitors in their yards yesterday.

Hearing Will Be Held For Road Widening

The State Highway Department today scheduled a public hearing on the improvement of a two-mile section of Route 518 for Feb. 13 at 10:30 a. m. in the Lisbon Village Hall.

State Highway Director E. S. Preston said the hearing will be held to hear arguments for and against the proposed improvement covering 1.92 miles from the junction of Routes 518 and 164 to a point eight-tenths of a mile east of the junction with Wayne Township Road 776.

The improvement calls for widening, grading and paving, Preston said.

low of 39 degrees. The high was only 49.

Where it wasn't snowing, it was raining, or sleeting, or hailing. Thunder clapped and lightning flashed as gusty winds blew. The rain was expected to continue another day. The snowfall was Southern California's worst since 1949.

The rainfall in Los Angeles measured 2.35 inches.

Police blamed the weather for two traffic fatalities, one in Los Angeles and one west of Maricopa. Snow marooned 300 cars in Mojave and almost isolated that desert community of 2,500.

Two hundred winter sportsmen caught in a lodge south of Bishop had to bed down on the floor for the night.

The U.S. Forest Service began checking avalanche hazards in Angeles National Forest above Pasadena and warned snow lovers to stay out of the mountains. Even in the San Fernando Valley motorists were skidding about and wondering where tire chains could be had.

Workers in Rosamond, a small Kern County community, couldn't clear snow from streets because heavy drifts buried the town's two snowplows.

Schools closed in Fresno and in some mountain areas near Los Angeles. Main highways from Los Angeles to Bakersfield alternately closed and opened as drifts formed and were plowed away.

Stormy weather also hit sections of the South but unseasonably mild weather prevailed in most of the Southeast.

A broad belt of rain or drizzle, with sleet along the northern edge, spread through most of southern and eastern Texas northeastward to West Virginia and southern Pennsylvania.

Heaviest precipitation was from northern Louisiana and southeastern Arkansas to southern West Virginia and eastern Tennessee. Freezing rain made driving conditions hazardous in western Tennessee. Some fog shrouded areas from southeast Louisiana along coastal areas into Florida.

Colder weather was expected to extend into the Carolinas and northern Florida by Wednesday.

Snow flurries fell in the cold air over the Great Lakes and in parts of New England. Snow flurries and rain dampened areas of Arizona and New Mexico.

Coldest weather was centered in the northern Rockies and central sections of the Plateau states. Temperatures were mostly below zero, dropping to more than 20 below in parts of Idaho.

Defy French Authorities

Algeria Terrorists Kill 3 In Reply To Clampdown

ALGIERS (AP)—Terrorists replied with gunfire and explosives today to plans of French authorities to clamp tight traffic and other restrictions on three of Algeria's largest cities.

Jean Morin, chief government representative in Algeria, ordered the special control measures for Algiers, Oran and Bone Monday night in an effort to stop the war between European and Moslem terrorists.

But terrorist gunfire left two Europeans and a Moslem dead and nine Moslems wounded in Algiers today.

In Oran a terrorist shot a European to death and a European crowd in retaliation killed a Moslem flower seller who had a dagger hidden in his flower basket.

In Bone, an explosive charge damaged the stern of the steamship Djebel Dira, which was preparing to sail with a company of riot police being transferred to France. The ship will have to go into drydock for repairs.

Four persons were killed and 18 wounded in terrorist attacks and seven Moslems were killed by police Monday.

Authorities said the terrorist attacks showed the necessity of immediate application of the new security measures — including roadblocks, traffic curfews and troop cordons.

They said it would be some time, however, before they could be put into effect because of a shortage of troops.

The city's public transport system was strikebound for the sixth day, and European doctors were in the second day of their 48-hour strike. Bus drivers and doctors are demanding police escorts, but authorities say they do not have enough manpower.

Only two roadblocks guarded approaches to Algiers this morning. Cars were not being searched and there were few signs of increased patrols as planned under the new degrees.

French troops were ordered to set up road blocks on all approaches to the three cities to restrict the flow of arms to the two opposing extremist groups, the European Secret Army Organization and the Moslem National Liberation Front (FLN).

A communique announced traffic would be stopped on certain streets and that some parts of the cities would be cordoned off permanently.

All automobile traffic from 9 p.m. to daylight was banned in the three cities.

These measures, Morin said in a communique, "demonstrate the will of the government and of civilian and military representatives in Algeria to assure public order and to guarantee the security of everyone."

French army commanders sought measures to halt the spreading theft of arms from military camps by the right-wing European underground.

The army reported a second daring raid this week by Secret Army commandos in French army uniforms who seized arms with the apparent complicity of the camp's personnel.

Army sources believed the raids were part of a plan in preparation for an attempt to block any compromise between President Charles de Gaulle's government and the Moslem nationalist rebels.

Write-In Candidate Escapes Required Fee

BLOUNTSTOWN, Fla. (AP) — There will be a full City Council sitting in this rural county seat the next two years, but for a time it was touch and go.

The qualifying deadline for the two council seats up for grabs in the city election passed without a candidate in Ward 2. Ward 1 got a candidate at the last minute when Councilman George Washington Davis filed for re-election.

The lack of interest in the job may have been due to the fact that the pay is $1 a year and the cost of filing as a candidate is $25.

But J. A. Peacock was elected with 99 write-in votes — and he didn't have to pay the $25 qualifying fee.

Calcutta Area Residents Due Road Refund

Residents of Maple Dr., Calcutta, are to get a credit of 6 cents a foot on a blademix application to the roadway this summer, St. Clair Township trustees announced at a meeting Monday night.

Marion Sias of Maple Dr. was advised the overpayment the residents had made in the road program in 1958 amounted to that total, and it would be applied to the cost of the mix treatment which will amount to 16 cents a foot — or 10 cents a foot with the rebate.

The trustees heard Frank Allison of the Pittsburgh Plate Glass Co. discuss a "road stabilization program" in which a calcium - type mix is used for roads to provide for a hard surface. Allison is to make test samples of roads and ground types in the township to report back at a later meeting.

William Cunningham of Bloomfield requested slag for the road in his area, and Robert Steele of Highland Dr. asked for information regarding driveway pipe and ditches.

Harold Williams, chairman, and Neil McIntosh, clerk, reported on the convention of the Ohio Trustees and Clerks Association. They reported state regulations call for appointment of a township fire prevention officer.

State Offers $34,000 For Highway Land

The Ohio Highway Department Monday filed with the Clerk of Courts an offer of $34,000 for an 8.2-acre tract in Liverpool Township, sought as part of the right-of-way for planned improvement of Route 30.

The state has offered the owners, Shirley C. and Malcolm E. McBurney of Rogers $6,890 for the land, $26,700 for the structure and $320 for damage. The owners have 15 days in which to appeal or accept.

But, apparently, it also applies to the Nashville Public Works Department.

It was pouring down rain recently; the gutters were full to the curb - tops; automobiles splashed slowly through the pools at intersections.

And there, down the middle of the street, moved a city watertruck, jets spraying on both sides —performing its routine duty of washing the streets.

Old Idea In A Modern Version

Presidential stress on authority to cut federal income tax rates when the economy needs a shot in the arm is an old idea in a modern version.

The original version, still dear to all of us who think public finances should be handled like our private affairs, was to cut government spending when things slowed down and let taxpayers keep what was saved.

This is the kind of thinking budget balancers are capable of. Such people think income and outgo should be balanced; that if income shrinks outgo should shrink. They think that in fair weather the roof should be patched; that something should be put aside for a rainy day while making hay in the sunshine; that prudence with money is one of the absolute virtues.

The modern version of cutting income tax rates when the economy needs a shot in the arm says nothing in it about a corresponding cut in government spending.

It is completely to the contrary. Spending is speeded up, not slowed down.

PRESIDENT KENNEDY is asking for authority to cut income tax rates by executive decree if business sags and for parallel authority to start expensive public works. This is the formula of the Roosevelt New Deal panacea for spending the country into prosperity.

It didn't work in the New Deal, and it won't work in the New Frontier.

The idea that the U. S. government can carry on financial practices that would bring the police and the psychiatrists hustling if its citizens tried them never has been certified for public use, John Maynard Keyes to the contrary notwithstanding.

There have been men in the federal government for years who have claimd to be above hobbling regulations on the way they handled the people's money, but they never have won a mandate to put their ideas into practice.

Yet they have the gall in 1962 to ask for congressional consent to pinch off federal income with one hand while opening the sluice gates for more federal spending. They say it would be absurd to cut back spending, because spending must go on ad infinitum while taxing is something that can be discontinued whenever the burden grows too heavy to bear.

IT APPEARS to us the minds that think this way have learned everything they need to know about public finances except the one most important thing.

Public finances depend on the people's confidence in the way their money is being handled.

When they see it handled in a way that would be reckless and foolhardy in private affairs, they get uneasy about their government.

It is too much like telling them there's a double standard of morality—one way for the American people to handle money, another way for the government. They don't believe it.

They wouldn't believe it even if Lord Keynes had told them about it personally, with diagrams and footnotes.

Big Show Opens This Week

"I shall be fair, factual, but unrelenting. I hope every American will follow these hearings with interest and objectivity," declared Sen. Strom Thurmond, D-S.C., at the conclusion of a series of articles in which he had outlined his conviction there is some connection between military censorship in the Pentagon and the decision of the 1960 Communist Party Congress to take counter-measures against anti-Communist activities in the United States.

He was referring to Senate Armed Services subcommittee hearings starting Tuesday.

Sen. Thurmond, a major general in the Army reserve, has been breathing fire for months about this matter. His interest was ignited by the incident in which Maj. Gen. Edwin A. Walker was rebuked and removed from command of the 24th Army Division in Europe last April on charges he had engaged in partisian political activity.

Gen. Walker, according to the Army, had used "biased, inflammatory and nonfactual" materials in a recommended reading list for a troop indoctrination program. It was alleged he had tried to influence the voting of troops and their families in the 1960 congressional election.

GEN. WALKER was accused of violating a military parallel of the Hatch Act, which forbids public officials to use their influence in popular elections and reported as using Art. 31 of the Military Code—military equivalent of the Fifth Amendment.

Rather than accept an official reprimand and reassignment, he resigned his commission on Nov. 2, forfeiting pension rights of about $12,000 a year. Believed to be close to the John Birch Society, if not one of its own members, he now is a favorite of the conservative right and in demand for speaking engagements.

He is expected to be one of the key witnesses in the Senate Armed Services subcommittee hearings. Nothing since the Army-McCarthy hearings has aroused Washington so much as the prospect that Sen. Thurmond may turn the new hearings into a search for suspected subversives in the Pentagon.

WHAT PROMISED at first to be a showdown on the right of civilian authority in the government to restrain the political activity of military officers now looks like a project to depict the Kennedy administration as being soft on socialism.

Sen. Thurmond, who intends to be "fair, factual, but unrelenting," is as far from being a Kennedy supporter, despite membership in the Democratic party, as Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz., who has said the "real extremists are the people to the left, the socialists in the Kennedy administration."

This then, is the prospect. Once more the country may be treated to a Senate investigation of the kind that caused the Senate to wonder if its entire investigation procedure shouldn't be overhauled after the Army-McCarthy episode.

Sen. Thurmond, having revealed what he expects to find, undoutedly will look for it and for nothing else. He will be less investigator than prosecutor.

Milsuc Solakov Had A Cover Story

It may turn out that a young Bulgarian pilot named Milsuc Solakov actually was trying to escape to freedom when his high-level fighter plane equipped for aerial reconnaissance crashed in Italy.

But it could turn out that the world has been treated to a cover story like the one that made the United States aviator Francis Gary Powers a figure of international controversy when his spy plane crashed in Russia two years ago next May.

Solakov could be posing as a Bulgarian. It is commonplace for Communists to say they are members of nationality groups when they are in fact members of the Communist Conspiracy.

He could be posing as a would-be escapee. That would be a clever ruse under the circumstances, but doesn't everything depend on what pictures he had taken? An escapee wouldn't be interested in taking pictures.

Solakov even could be posing as a Bulgarian aviator whose spy pictures, if any, would be used by the Russians, provided he did not have a change of heart and turn himself over to the Italians. He could be in fact a secret agent of the Chinese Communists on a mission to Albania with special instructions from Peiping for overthrowing Tito in Yugoslavia. He could be an American flying a Bulgarian plane made in Russia, to spy on Black Sea submarine maneuvers.

When it's a matter of cover stories, all bases should be covered. That was the lesson of Francis Gary Powers. The best cover story for him, as it turned out, would have been the truth — that he was a professional aviator making a living by flying a spy plane for Central Intelligence Agency.

That would have shocked no one. The shock came from discovering via Moscow that he wasn't the pilot of a weather plane that got lost and that the United States lied to its own citizens when it said he was.

Several states, of which Connecticut is most recent, are using unmarked police cars in drive on speeders. Experiment is already causing eye strain among autoists and increasing irritability as they slow up for the wrong car behind.

Firms, Farms Go Underground

By Victor Riesel

PITTSBURGH

If you're in an Alice in Wonderland mood and want to tumble down a big hole into the strontium-less world of tomorrow you need not invoke some magic rabbit. Just drive up to Boyers, Pa., and its old limestone pit.

Victor Riesel

You needn't tumble either. You glide gently down some 220 feet to a four-room air-conditioned apartment. Smack in the center of the old shaft is the drawing room, dining room, bedroom, kitchen and bath—with shower—for the executives or labor leaders or the still unknown standby government officials of D-Day. It must never come.

This is the first of tomorrow's underground apartments. It is the sanctuary for the managerial, labor and government leaders and their families—if "The Attack" heat blisters our land.

IT IS CARVED out of only one of hundreds of caves and mountains and ancient mines. Talk with experts of the National Storage Co. headquartered in this steel city and you know that Alice really had no wonderland.

You learn of what someday may be moon living. Of underground chicken farms and tiny cattle "ranges" deep under the earth. Of assembly lines and huge doors dwarfing those which lock in even Fort Knox.

Up at Boyers, you don't know you're driving over moon-living quarters. The old U.S. Steel Annondale limestone mine now holds the records of banks, insurance companies, savings and loan associations, industrial firms—records of skilled management and labor people—and the vital knowledge of three federal agencies.

There's a boom in Boyers. Some 107 men work the vast atomic shelter. They guard, they file, they store, they search swiftly for records and information needed quickly by client companies.

THEY SERVICE the underground apartment which will be the model for scores of other suites under the company's 80 acres of that limestone strata that stretches down from Canada through New York and into Pennsylvania.

Recently on my way down from Albany, N. Y., I ran across the Co. — some eight miles south of Hudson, N. Y.

The mountain is hollowed out. Into its vast emptiness have been stored the records of 3,000 firms —some 100 banks, 75 insurance companies, 50 Wall Street brokerage firms, and even overseas outfits.

But it will take living things to ride out an atomic hailstorm. People, chickens, cattle. Over in the Carey Salt Mines in Lyons, Kan., the Armour Meat Co. is experimenting with raising cattle underground. This fascinates the Pentagon.

Down in Manheim, W. Va., the Fawcett Co., has been raising 400 chickens down in the pit every six weeks. Good fowl, too. I may be tipping the Russians but the company is getting chickens four ounces heavier underground than topside.

IF CHICKS PROSPER, girls do too, underground. In Atchison, Kan., the Pentagon's Quartermaster Division has a C-ration assembly line. Some 300 women wrap the stuff every day.

Until the trip here I had no idea how fast we were going underground in these United States. I heard of one firm in Los Angeles, known as the Bekins Business Records Center, which has 50 underground units in 13 states spanning the entire West Coast and western half of the land.

While everybody's arguing about shelters, the mine and cave business is the most active on the fallout front. It is coodinated wherever possible in the Pentagon's Industry office. This division has units ranging from Denton, Tex., to Harvard, Mass.—which is a Boston suburb and not a university, no matter what you hear from Washington. Do not confuse it with that White House suburb known as Cambridge.

This recounting of this latest trip of mine is offered in the hope that never will we need to retreat to the caves. And that historians will look back at them as museum pieces of a maladjusted age.

Position Papers

By Truman Twill

The phrase "position papers" had been a puzzler until a political candidate sent in a news release. It announced he had a "position paper" on each of a long list of subjects.

This cleared the air.

A "posit on paper" is not something for training a puppy. It isn't a newspaper plopped into a position on a doormat by a dead-eye newspaperboy. It isn't what an exercise bug puts down on the floor to lie on before assuming Position A, with the forehead touching the floor.

It's a declaration of belief, like a government "white paper." All of us should have "position papers."

I am at work on my own list of these, and when they are ready I'll distribute copies to all parties who ask what my position is on:

Railroad mergers.
The Gen. Walker situation.
Smallpox in Britain.
Short skirts.
Forged pedigrees for dogs.
The two-handed tennis grip.
Shotgun offense in football.
Open season on quail.
European common market.
Existentialism.
Population control.
Vending machines in schools.
Intelligence tests.
Narrow lapels.
Irish-type tenors.
Molotov.
OAS. (Organization of American States).
SAO (Secret Army Organization).
Lord Snowdon.
The price of steel.
Cholesterol.
Medical care for the aged.
Job retraining.
Tire retreading.
Fluoridation.
Rising college tuition rates.
Orthodontia.
Who to blame for Cuba.
White House decor.
A man on the moon.
Glass houses.
Plastic helmets.
Stick shifts.

These are samples. There are dozens of things I've been challenged to take positions on lately and of them all only orthodontia has been an open - and - shut proposition.

Magic Fuel?

Engines of future spaceships may be run on plasma, a substance that is neither solid or liquid, or a gas.

A plasma is a substance so hot that its atoms have violently smashed one another to bits. The result is an angry swarm of electrons and positive ions, the remainder of the atoms from which electrons have been stripped away.

Until recently, few people except astronomers realized that most material in the universe, including the stars and many loose particles in space, is in this unfamiliar "fourth state" of matter, the National Geographic Society says. Only in exceptional places, as on earth, does matter settle down into solids, liquids, or gases.

The sun, being a star, is largely plasma. So is the visible path of a bolt of lighting, and so far the earth's ionosphere and the Van Allen radiation belts that present a hazard for astronauts.

TB Association's Program Reviewed

Comments have been received from a few of the contributors to the Christmas Seal sale campaign which indicate that, because the Columbiana County Public Health League is not sponsoring visits of a mobile X-ray truck to East Liverpool, no further contributions need be expected from these individuals.

We have considered this complaint of sufficient gravity that an explanation of the function of your TB association (The Columbiana County Public Health League) is warranted, so that no misunderstanding exists.

Many years ago the sponsors of the Christmas Seal movement came to the realization that the sums of money raised by the sale of Christmas Seals could only be a drop in the bucket to the money really needed to combat a disease so widespread and costly in treatment of TB.

Consequently, it was decided that the efforts of the national, state and local TB associations should be directed toward the education of the public, official health agencies and legislators as to the danger of tuberculosis, its contageous character, of the inability of individuals to protect themselves against its attack in an atmosphere of public indifference and the possibility of eventual elimination of this dread disease by the concerted action of all health agencies, private and public, spurred on by an informed and demanding public.

To this end the contract under which your local TB association operates, as well as the constitution of the association, directs that all programs of TB detection and control be on a demonstration basis only, not of a permanent nature, but for a limited duration of time; that their purpose be to educate the public and official health agencies in effective methods of detecting tuberculosis, recommended procedures of treatment and methods to reduce its contageous effect, with the goal of reducing its incidence and saving the lives of individuals afflicted, and return them to society cured wherever possible. It is contemplated that, if the service is demonstrated to be worthwhile and desireable the public will demand its continuation by tax-supported agencies.

It has been demonstrated that X-rays are a most effective tool for detecting active TB, and for this reason your TB Association has furnished, as one of its services to the people of Columbiana County, a limited small film X-ray detection program. However, the cost of this service has increased appreciably, so that the relative cost of the program furnished to the general public, as compared with the number of cases detected, makes continuation of this aspect of the service impractical. Nevertheless, the service is still available to industry and to groups of our population known to have a high incidence of infection.

In contemplation of this change of program, your TB association furnished $5,000 toward the installation of a small film X-ray unit in Salem.

Plans are being completed at this time at East Liverpool City Hospital for the installation of similar equipment and the League will provide $5,000 toward this facility. The East Liverpool hospital Board of Trustees and superintendent are to be complimented for their decision to take this forward step in providing the community with screening equipment for tuberculosis detection.

It is now widely considered that the most effective attack against TB is to locate those persons who have TB germs in their bodies, but do not necessarily have active TB. These are the persons most likely to later acquire active TB.

Various skin tests have been found best for detecting these cases and your TB association is diligently striving to secure universal support of this testing program. It is the hope that, with testing properly applied, and the use of X-rays where most effective, together with the demonstrated procedures of treatment and prevention, the people of every part of our county may eventually be free from the menace of TB.

You are still receiving the intelligent progressive services of your county TB association.

Appeal Made For City Income Tax

To read the latest on East Liverpool's dire financial condition is perhaps not surprising, but certainly shocking. The city's poor credit and deficit of funds is, in fact, deplorable and unnecessary.

The reports inevitably leads back to further consideration of the voters repeated refusal to accept a city income tax.

No one doubts that a great many East Liverpool families have been hard hit by employment problems. Great compassion is extended to these people. However, there seems to be little choice left to them and to the rest of the dissenting population but to sacrifice, if need be, for this is essential to the city's well being.

Past victories for the opponents are hollow ones, indeed, if a home and perhaps lives are sacrificed because of lack of funds to properly maintain the fire department. Likewise, it would be penny wise and pound foolish to keep a few more dollars in possession and not have police protection when urgently needed because service stations could no longer fix punctured tires on credit.

The problem has proven itself not to be one of politics or party lines. It would be difficult to conceive it could be the result of poor voter education. Perhaps, it comes down to plain balkiness. Great men often find they have erred in judgment. Greater ones reverse their original opinions and votes. Then so, could an ordinary citizen change his opinion and his vote.

This writer was born and reared in East Liverpool leaving the town when married. In the past eight and a half years The Review, and information contained therein, have come regularly to the home. Several visits each year are made to the home town. Perhaps a now outsider expressing opinions from afar is laying open the way to criticism. The letter is written with the thought that when removed from a situation it is sometimes easy to view that situation impartially.

It is hoped that those who have been proponents of the wage tax will continue to be so until the deciding number of citizens respond in the affirmative at the polls.

Would The Review's special publication of testimonials from men in various phases of employment enable others to see that many, even from the hard-hit industries, are champions of this tax?

It must never come.

This is the first of tomorrow's underground apartments. It is the sanctuary for the managerial, labor and government leaders and their families—if "The Attack" heat blisters our land.

IT IS CARVED out of only one of hundreds of caves and mountains and ancient mines. Talk with experts of the National Storage Co. headquartered in this steel city and you know that Alice really had no wonderland.

You learn of what someday may be moon living. Of underground chicken farms and tiny cattle "ranges" deep under the earth. Of assembly lines and huge doors dwarfing those which lock in even Fort Knox.

Up at Boyers, you don't know you're driving over moon-living quarters. The old U.S. Steel Annondale limestone mine now holds the records of banks, insurance companies, savings and loan associations, industrial firms—records of skilled management and labor people—and the vital knowledge of three federal agencies.

There's a boom in Boyers. Some 107 men work the vast atomic shelter. They guard, they file, they store, they search swiftly for records and information needed quickly by client companies.

THEY SERVICE the underground apartment which will be the model for scores of other suites under the company's 80 acres of that limestone strata that stretches down from Canada through New York and into Pennsylvania.

Recently on my way down from Albany, N. Y., I ran across the Co. — some eight miles south of Hudson, N. Y.

The mountain is hollowed out. Into its vast emptiness have been stored the records of 3,000 firms —some 100 banks, 75 insurance companies, 50 Wall Street brokerage firms, and even overseas outfits.

But it will take living things to ride out an atomic hailstorm. People, chickens, cattle. Over in the Carey Salt Mines in Lyons, Kan., the Armour Meat Co. is experimenting with raising cattle underground. This fascinates the Pentagon.

Down in Manheim, W. Va., the Fawcett Co., has been raising 400 chickens down in the pit every six weeks. Good fowl, too. I may be tipping the Russians but the company is getting chickens four ounces heavier underground than topside.

IF CHICKS PROSPER, girls do too, underground. In Atchison, Kan., the Pentagon's Quartermaster Division has a C-ration assembly line. Some 300 women wrap the stuff every day.

Until the trip here I had no idea how fast we were going underground in these United States. I heard of one firm in Los Angeles, known as the Bekins Business Records Center, which has 50 underground units in 13 states spanning the entire West Coast and western half of the land.

While everybody's arguing about shelters, the mine and cave business is the most active on the fallout front. It is coodinated wherever possible in the Pentagon's Industry office. This division has units ranging from Denton, Tex., to Harvard, Mass.—which is a Boston suburb and not a university, no matter what you hear from Washington. Do not confuse it with that White House suburb known as Cambridge.

This recounting of this latest trip of mine is offered in the hope that never will we need to retreat to the caves. And that historians will look back at them as museum pieces of a maladjusted age.

Position Papers

By Truman Twill

The phrase "position papers" had been a puzzler until a political candidate sent in a news release. It announced he had a "position paper" on each of a long list of subjects.

This cleared the air.

A "posit on paper" is not something for training a puppy. It isn't a newspaper plopped into a position on a doormat by a dead-eye newspaperboy. It isn't what an exercise bug puts down on the floor to lie on before assuming Position A, with the forehead touching the floor.

It's a declaration of belief, like a government "white paper." All of us should have "position papers."

I am at work on my own list of these, and when they are ready I'll distribute copies to all parties who ask what my position is on:

Railroad mergers.
The Gen. Walker situation.
Smallpox in Britain.
Short skirts.
Forged pedigrees for dogs.
The two-handed tennis grip.
Shotgun offense in football.
Open season on quail.
European common market.
Existentialism.
Population control.
Vending machines in schools.
Intelligence tests.
Narrow lapels.
Irish-type tenors.
Molotov.
OAS. (Organization of American States).
SAO (Secret Army Organization).
Lord Snowdon.
The price of steel.
Cholesterol.
Medical care for the aged.
Job retraining.
Tire retreading.
Fluoridation.
Rising college tuition rates.
Orthodontia.
Who to blame for Cuba.
White House decor.
A man on the moon.
Glass houses.
Plastic helmets.
Stick shifts.

These are samples. There are dozens of things I've been challenged to take positions on lately and of them all only orthodontia has been an open - and - shut proposition.

GRIN AND BEAR IT — By George Lichty

Magic Fuel?

Engines of future spaceships may be run on plasma, a substance that is neither solid or liquid, or a gas.

A plasma is a substance so hot that its atoms have violently smashed one another to bits. The result is an angry swarm of electrons and positive ions, the remainder of the atoms from which electrons have been stripped away.

Until recently, few people except astronomers realized that most material in the universe, including the stars and many loose particles in space, is in this unfamiliar "fourth state" of matter, the National Geographic Society says. Only in exceptional places, as on earth, does matter settle down into solids, liquids, or gases.

The sun, being a star, is largely plasma. So is the visible path of a bolt of lighting, and so far the earth's ionosphere and the Van Allen radiation belts that present a hazard for astronauts.

TB Association's Program Reviewed

Comments have been received from a few of the contributors to the Christmas Seal sale campaign which indicate that, because the Columbiana County Public Health League is not sponsoring visits of a mobile X-ray truck to East Liverpool, no further contributions need be expected from these individuals.

We have considered this complaint of sufficient gravity that an explanation of the function of your TB association (The Columbiana County Public Health League) is warranted, so that no misunderstanding exists.

Many years ago the sponsors of the Christmas Seal movement came to the realization that the sums of money raised by the sale of Christmas Seals could only be a drop in the bucket to the money really needed to combat a disease so widespread and costly in treatment of TB.

Consequently, it was decided that the efforts of the national, state and local TB associations should be directed toward the education of the public, official health agencies and legislators as to the danger of tuberculosis, its contageous character, of the inability of individuals to protect themselves against its attack in an atmosphere of public indifference and the possibility of eventual elimination of this dread disease by the concerted action of all health agencies, private and public, spurred on by an informed and demanding public.

To this end the contract under which your local TB association operates, as well as the constitution of the association, directs that all programs of TB detection and control be on a demonstration basis only, not of a permanent nature, but for a limited duration of time; that their purpose be to educate the public and official health agencies in effective methods of detecting tuberculosis, recommended procedures of treatment and methods to reduce its contageous effect, with the goal of reducing its incidence and saving the lives of individuals afflicted, and return them to society cured wherever possible. It is contemplated that, if the service is demonstrated to be worthwhile and desireable the public will demand its continuation by tax-supported agencies.

It has been demonstrated that X-rays are a most effective tool for detecting active TB, and for this reason your TB Association has furnished, as one of its services to the people of Columbiana County, a limited small film X-ray detection program. However, the cost of this service has increased appreciably, so that the relative cost of the program furnished to the general public, as compared with the number of cases detected, makes continuation of this aspect of the service impractical. Nevertheless, the service is still available to industry and to groups of our population known to have a high incidence of infection.

In contemplation of this change of program, your TB association furnished $5,000 toward the installation of a small film X-ray unit in Salem.

Plans are being completed at this time at East Liverpool City Hospital for the installation of similar equipment and the League will provide $5,000 toward this facility. The East Liverpool hospital Board of Trustees and superintendent are to be complimented for their decision to take this forward step in providing the community with screening equipment for tuberculosis detection.

It is now widely considered that the most effective attack against TB is to locate those persons who have TB germs in their bodies, but do not necessarily have active TB. These are the persons most likely to later acquire active TB.

Various skin tests have been found best for detecting these cases and your TB association is diligently striving to secure universal support of this testing program. It is the hope that, with testing properly applied, and the use of X-rays where most effective, together with the demonstrated procedures of treatment and prevention, the people of every part of our county may eventually be free from the menace of TB.

You are still receiving the intelligent progressive services of your county TB association.

Appeal Made For City Income Tax

To read the latest on East Liverpool's dire financial condition is perhaps not surprising, but certainly shocking. The city's poor credit and deficit of funds is, in fact, deplorable and unnecessary.

The reports inevitably leads back to further consideration of the voters repeated refusal to accept a city income tax.

No one doubts that a great many East Liverpool families have been hard hit by employment problems. Great compassion is extended to these people. However, there seems to be little choice left to them and to the rest of the dissenting population but to sacrifice, if need be, for this is essential to the city's well being.

Past victories for the opponents are hollow ones, indeed, if a home and perhaps lives are sacrificed because of lack of funds to properly maintain the fire department. Likewise, it would be penny wise and pound foolish to keep a few more dollars in possession and not have police protection when urgently needed because service stations could no longer fix punctured tires on credit.

The problem has proven itself not to be one of politics or party lines. It would be difficult to conceive it could be the result of poor voter education. Perhaps, it comes down to plain balkiness. Great men often find they have erred in judgment. Greater ones reverse their original opinions and votes. Then so, could an ordinary citizen change his opinion and his vote.

This writer was born and reared in East Liverpool leaving the town when married. In the past eight and a half years The Review, and information contained therein, have come regularly to the home. Several visits each year are made to the home town. Perhaps a now outsider expressing opinions from afar is laying open the way to criticism. The letter is written with the thought that when removed from a situation it is sometimes easy to view that situation impartially.

It is hoped that those who have been proponents of the wage tax will continue to be so until the deciding number of citizens respond in the affirmative at the polls.

Would The Review's special publication of testimonials from men in various phases of employment enable others to see that many, even from the hard-hit industries, are champions of this tax?

Buttermilk Adds Spark To Fruit Salad Mold

Glamour dairy foods like whipped cream, sour cream and cottage cheese lend an exciting pickup to fruit salads.

But buttermilk, though not as often used, adds its own flair of sophistication to fruits in salad, too. Fresh fruit salad boasts tangy buttermilk with fruit in a gelatin base. And it's the zestiness of the buttermilk that makes this salad so unusually good.

Salad mold, 7-cut.

Yield: 8-10 servings

3 tablespoons (3 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
1-3 cup fresh lemon juice
2¾ cups buttermilk
¾ cup fresh slivered grapes
1 cup diced orange sections
1 cup (8-oz. can) crushed pineapple with juice
1 cup whipping cream
Salad greens
Orange sections
Fresh grapes

In saucepan combine gelatin and sugar; stir in lemon juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is softened and sugar is dissolved. Stir in butter-milk; heat a few minutes more. Chill to jelly-like consistency; stir in grapes, orange sections and crushed pineapple. Whip cream until stiff; fold into fruit mixture. Pour into salad mold; cover and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens; garnish with orange sections and fresh grapes.

Gizenga Due Trial On Acts Of Rebellion

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga was placid under house arrest in a comfortable suburban villa today to await trial for acts of rebellion against the central Congolese government.

U.N. protection for the former deputy premier was lifted Monday night and Gizenga was transferred from accommodations in th U.N. headquarters building.

Officially the troops surrounding the modern two-story residence were to "protect" Gizenga. But the sergeant of the guard assured newsmen that they had orders to prevent him from leaving the house without authorization from Premir Cyrilel Adoulas government.

U.N. headquarters had no further information about the activities of the mutinous Congolese troops in north Katanga who are apparently still at large after slaying 19 white Roman Catholic priests on Jan. 1 and the capture of a Roman Catholic mission at the river town of Sola last week.

A U.N. spokesman said plans are being carried out to restore order in north Katanga and deal with the marauding troops.

Dispute

when the case began. The judge ordered seats for 10 provided on an extra bench generally reserved for defendants in criminal cases. The last six were given seats in the jury box. It was the largest crowd seen in the courtroom in many years.

Richardson's petition alleges that the minister resigned Sept. 28 with the understanding that his salary would continue through Dec. 28. He alleges that the minister has been occupying the parsonage unlawfully since Dec. 28.

As the case opened, the judge warned the crowd there were to be no demonstrations.

"I assume this case is important to both sides," he said from the bench. "You are in a court of law and I expect to see decorum. There will be no demonstrations and no talking. The court will expect you to conduct yourselves as what you are—ladies and gentlemen."

The opening of the trial was marked by a defense motion for dismissal, which was overruled after an argument. Then the testimony began.

Atty. Fineman moved for dismissal on the grounds the "action is not proper." He said there is a question whether the church is a corporation. If it is not, the property is owned by every individual member, he argued, and Richardson would not be a proper party plaintiff.

The defense counsel said there also is a question of the ownership which the court here has no right to decide. The case should be tried in another court, he said.

Atty. Smith replied that the title to the property is not at issue in such a case of "forcible entry and detainer." He argued the plaintiff's action was brought properly and the defense motion should be dismissed.

Citing several points of law, the judge dismissed the defense motion and ordered the trial to continue.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What's the secret in mixing good plaster for a patching job?

A. Be sure to add the plaster to the water (not the water to the plaster). Don't ask me why. All I know is you'll have trouble getting a good mix if you try pouring the water into the plaster powder.

Q. How can I silence some persistent squeaks in some of our floorboards?

A. You can put the quietus on these squeaks by dusting some talcum powder or dripping some glue into the offending cracks. This usually works like magic. Shellac the floor when dry.

Q. How can I wash dishes that have been used for fish, so that no fishy odor remains on them?

A. By using a tablespoonful of ammonia in the water.

Q. How can I prepare my thread for easier and more efficient quilting?

A. Immerse an entire spool of your thread into hot paraffin, and let remain about five minutes. This will wax all the thread on the spool, and, since the thread will not then knot, you can do a better job.

Shell those chestnuts that have been boiled or baked while they're still warm.

Checks

thews asked time to obtain counsel, so his hearing was set for tomorrow morning. Judge Chertoff set bond at $5,000. Questioned by the judge, Matthews said he has not worked since November. He is married and his wife is expecting a baby, he added.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court police are compiling a list of the checks Matthews has admitted passing in order that it can be presented to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw.

In East Liverpool, Matthews admitted to cashing checks at the Loblaw and A. & P. Supermarkets, Montgomery Ward & Co., the Paramount Gulf Service Station, the Outdoor Army Store, D. M. Ogilvie & Co., Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., the Potter Gulf Service Station and the Humble Oil Co., police said.

In some instances, more than one check was passed, police said. Officers said Montgomery Ward, Humble Oil and Carroll Motors each cashed two for Matthews and the A. & P. received four.

The Ogilvie Co. was advised of Matthews' admission but store officials said no check with his name turned up in its records. The check cashed at Loblaw's was drawn on the Union Commercial & Savings Bank of East Palestine, police said.

In East Palestine, Matthews' admissions covered checks passed at the A. & P. Store, the Golden Dawn Food Market, Wilson's Service Station and the Hilltop Grocery. In Wellsville, he passed checks on the Rowen Oil Co. and the Standard Oil Co. station, police said. At Columbiana, he cashed a check at Theron's Market and in Lisbon he cashed one at the Hiscox Supply Co., officers said.

In only a few cases was Matthews able to give the officers the amounts of the checks. He said he could not recall all the checks he had written, police said.

Matthews was taken into custody while in the company of a 16-year-old Wellsville boy who has been ordered to appear Monday at 9 a. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

Officer Smith said Matthews "readily admitted" his check cashing activities and added that "he was relieved that he was caught." He gave police a signed statement detailing his activities.

Pole Mishap Kills Worker

STEUBENVILLE — A New Philadelphia father of four youngsters was killed in a freak accident Monday morning in Bergholz while working on an electrical project.

Orrwen Jonas Dykes, 43, was working at the top of a 40-foot utility pole when it snapped and the lineman plunged to the frozen earth.

Authorities said the pole, which appeared in perfect condition, broke off at the ground and toppled over while Dykes was on top.

Dykes died within half an hour after the mishap at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

He was employed by Myers Construction Co. of Canton and was working on construction of a transmission power line from Toronto to Cleveland.

Authorities said Dykes was the only lineman on the pole at the time.

An inspector from Chicago was to examine the utility pole to determine the cause.

Dykes suffered a crushed skull and broken arms. He was born June 6, 1918 in New Philadelphia and also leaves a widow.

Buttermilk Adds Spark To Fruit Salad Mold

Glamour dairy foods like whipped cream, sour cream and cottage cheese lend an exciting pickup to fruit salads.

But buttermilk, though not as often used, adds its own flair of sophistication to fruits in salad, too. Fresh fruit salad boasts tangy buttermilk with fruit in a gelatin base. And it's the zestiness of the buttermilk that makes this salad so unusually good.

Salad mold, 7-cut.

Yield: 8-10 servings

3 tablespoons (3 envelopes) unflavored gelatin
½ cup sugar
1-3 cup fresh lemon juice
2¾ cups buttermilk
¾ cup fresh slivered grapes
1 cup diced orange sections
1 cup (8-oz. can) crushed pineapple with juice
1 cup whipping cream
Salad greens
Orange sections
Fresh grapes

In saucepan combine gelatin and sugar; stir in lemon juice. Cook over low heat, stirring constantly, until gelatin is softened and sugar is dissolved. Stir in butter-milk; heat a few minutes more. Chill to jelly-like consistency; stir in grapes, orange sections and crushed pineapple. Whip cream until stiff; fold into fruit mixture. Pour into salad mold; cover and chill until firm. Unmold on salad greens; garnish with orange sections and fresh grapes.

Gizenga Due Trial On Acts Of Rebellion

LEOPOLDVILLE, the Congo (AP)—Antoine Gizenga was placid under house arrest in a comfortable suburban villa today to await trial for acts of rebellion against the central Congolese government.

U.N. protection for the former deputy premier was lifted Monday night and Gizenga was transferred from accommodations in th U.N. headquarters building.

Officially the troops surrounding the modern two-story residence were to "protect" Gizenga. But the sergeant of the guard assured newsmen that they had orders to prevent him from leaving the house without authorization from Premir Cyrilel Adoulas government.

U.N. headquarters had no further information about the activities of the mutinous Congolese troops in north Katanga who are apparently still at large after slaying 19 white Roman Catholic priests on Jan. 1 and the capture of a Roman Catholic mission at the river town of Sola last week.

A U.N. spokesman said plans are being carried out to restore order in north Katanga and deal with the marauding troops.

when the case began. The judge ordered seats for 10 provided on an extra bench generally reserved for defendants in criminal cases. The last six were given seats in the jury box. It was the largest crowd seen in the courtroom in many years.

Richardson's petition alleges that the minister resigned Sept. 28 with the understanding that his salary would continue through Dec. 28. He alleges that the minister has been occupying the parsonage unlawfully since Dec. 28.

As the case opened, the judge warned the crowd there were to be no demonstrations.

"I assume this case is important to both sides," he said from the bench. "You are in a court of law and I expect to see decorum. There will be no demonstrations and no talking. The court will expect you to conduct yourselves as what you are—ladies and gentlemen."

The opening of the trial was marked by a defense motion for dismissal, which was overruled after an argument. Then the testimony began.

Atty. Fineman moved for dismissal on the grounds the "action is not proper." He said there is a question whether the church is a corporation. If it is not, the property is owned by every individual member, he argued, and Richardson would not be a proper party plaintiff.

The defense counsel said there also is a question of the ownership which the court here has no right to decide. The case should be tried in another court, he said.

Atty. Smith replied that the title to the property is not at issue in such a case of "forcible entry and detainer." He argued the plaintiff's action was brought properly and the defense motion should be dismissed.

Citing several points of law, the judge dismissed the defense motion and ordered the trial to continue.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What's the secret in mixing good plaster for a patching job?

A. Be sure to add the plaster to the water (not the water to the plaster). Don't ask me why. All I know is you'll have trouble getting a good mix if you try pouring the water into the plaster powder.

Q. How can I silence some persistent squeaks in some of our floorboards?

A. You can put the quietus on these squeaks by dusting some talcum powder or dripping some glue into the offending cracks. This usually works like magic. Shellac the floor when dry.

Q. How can I wash dishes that have been used for fish, so that no fishy odor remains on them?

A. By using a tablespoonful of ammonia in the water.

Q. How can I prepare my thread for easier and more efficient quilting?

A. Immerse an entire spool of your thread into hot paraffin, and let remain about five minutes. This will wax all the thread on the spool, and, since the thread will not then knot, you can do a better job.

thews asked time to obtain counsel, so his hearing was set for tomorrow morning. Judge Chertoff set bond at $5,000. Questioned by the judge, Matthews said he has not worked since November. He is married and his wife is expecting a baby, he added.

Asst. Solicitor Richard J. Clark advised the court police are compiling a list of the checks Matthews has admitted passing in order that it can be presented to Prosecuting Atty. G. William Brokaw.

In East Liverpool, Matthews admitted to cashing checks at the Loblaw and A. & P. Supermarkets, Montgomery Ward & Co., the Paramount Gulf Service Station, the Outdoor Army Store, D. M. Ogilvie & Co., Carroll Motor Sales, Inc., the Potter Gulf Service Station and the Humble Oil Co., police said.

In some instances, more than one check was passed, police said. Officers said Montgomery Ward, Humble Oil and Carroll Motors each cashed two for Matthews and the A. & P. received four.

The Ogilvie Co. was advised of Matthews' admissions but store officials said no check with his name turned up in its records. The check cashed at Loblaw's was drawn on the Union Commercial & Savings Bank of East Palestine, police said.

In East Palestine, Matthews' admissions covered checks passed at the A. & P. Store, the Golden Dawn Food Market, Wilson's Service Station and the Hilltop Grocery. In Wellsville, he passed checks on the Rowen Oil Co. and the Standard Oil Co. station, police said. At Columbiana, he cashed a check at Theron's Market and in Lisbon he cashed one at the Hiscox Supply Co., officers said.

In only a few cases was Matthews able to give the officers the amounts of the checks. He said he could not recall all the checks he had written, police said.

Matthews was taken into custody while in the company of a 16-year-old Wellsville boy who has been ordered to appear Monday at 9 a. m. before Juvenile Judge Louis Tobin at Lisbon.

Officer Smith said Matthews "readily admitted" his check cashing activities and added that "he was relieved that he was caught." He gave police a signed statement detailing his activities.

Pole Mishap Kills Worker

STEUBENVILLE — A New Philadelphia father of four youngsters was killed in a freak accident Monday morning in Bergholz while working on an electrical project.

Orrwen Jonas Dykes, 43, was working at the top of a 40-foot utility pole when it snapped and the lineman plunged to the frozen earth.

Authorities said the pole, which appeared in perfect condition, broke off at the ground and toppled over while Dykes was on top.

Dykes died within half an hour after the mishap at 10:30 a. m. Monday.

He was employed by Myers Construction Co. of Canton and was working on construction of a transmission power line from Toronto to Cleveland.

Authorities said Dykes was the only lineman on the pole at the time.

An inspector from Chicago was to examine the utility pole to determine the cause.

Dykes suffered a crushed skull and broken arms. He was born June 6, 1918 in New Philadelphia and also leaves a widow.

Grumbling Behind Scenes

Hard-Pressed GOP Faces Near Flop In Fund Drive

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hard-pressed Republicans are facing what some of them fear may be a near financial flop in their Feb. 1 across-the-nation fund raising spectacular.

Because of this there is grumbling behind the scenes about what organization Republicans contend is a continuing effort to tap wealthy Eastern contributors for funds to help former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his race for governor of California.

Some of these Republicans thought they had detected a new touch in invitations sent out by Eugene McGovern, Long Island contractor, for a luncheon with Nixon at the Waldorf Astoria.

But McGovern, who served in the Navy with Nixon during World War II, said in a telephone interview it was "just a sentimental occasion." McGovern, who worked with the Nixon-Lodge volunteers in New York's Westchester County in 1960, denied there was any thought of raising funds for Nixon's campaign.

However, Republicans charged with raising funds for this year's congressional and senatorial campaigns feel that too many trips are being made to the usually reliable wells of party contributions.

They have had to revise downward their hopes they might net $500,000 or more from the closed-circuit television appearances Feb. 1 of Nixon, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

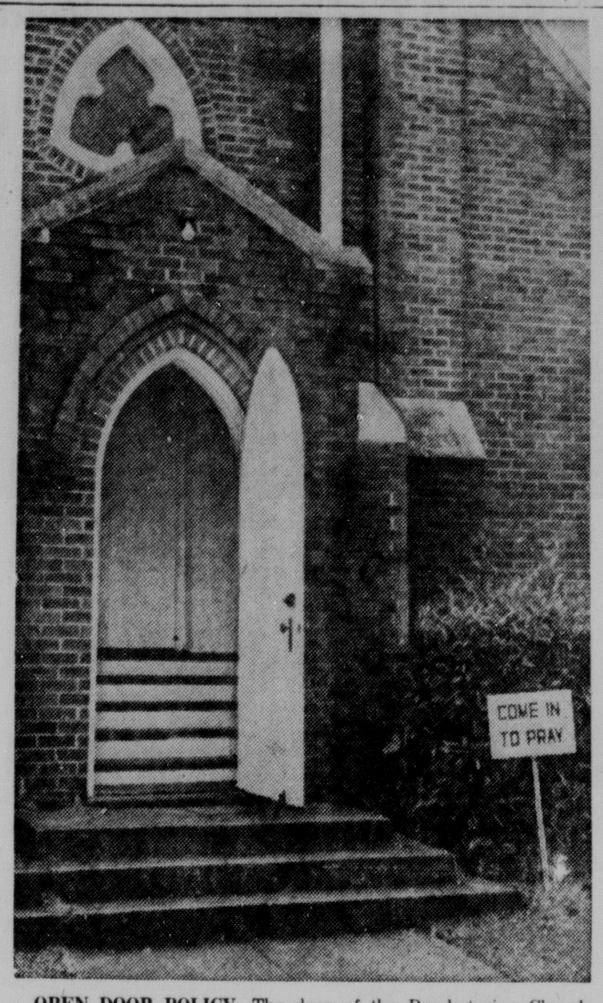

Because they have had to put up about $250,000 to bring off the closed-circuit deal, some of them feel they may be lucky to net $300,000.

This is a far cry from the $1 million or more they used to bank when Eisenhower was president. It compares with the $550,000 the Democrats took home from President Kennedy's inaugural anniversary dinner here Saturday night.

As some party leaders now view it, they may have to depend on a Cleveland dinner, at which Goldwater will speak, and a Washington affair for their largest share of receipts.

National Chairman William E. Miller will serve as master of ceremonies at the Washington dinner. It will be held in a hotel with a seating capacity of about 1,300 persons, compared with the 6,000 the Democrats crammed into an armory for Kennedy's second-year sendoff.

The GOP sponsors weren't successful in lining up a big-time dinner in New York, so Rockefeller will speak in Des Moines, Iowa.

OPEN DOOR POLICY. The door of the Presbyterian Church in Albany, Ga., is wide open and the sign to the right reads "Come in to Pray." The suggestion was made by parishioners for those who thought the church was closed on weekdays. The door remains open 24 hours each day.

Perils Elevator System

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The grain trade is complaining that the Agriculture Department's feed grain program is threatening the health of the nation's country elevator system.

In a letter to Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association finds fault with the way the government is selling surplus corn and sorghum grain. Such sales are being made to raise money to pay farmers for reducing acreages of these two grains last year.

The letter says the department is expected to sell around 800 million bushels of corn during the current market year and that 80 per cent will be taken out of country elevators. The remainder will be taken from the government's own storage facilities.

It says the loss in storage business is causing hardship for many elevators.

WASHINGTON (AP) — World wheat production in 1961 is estimated at 7,755,000,000 bushels by the Foreign Agriculture Service. This is about 300 million less than in 1960.

This estimate is slightly less than a forecast made last fall, mainly because estimates of the Soviet Union and mainland China have been reduced to reflect unfavorable growing conditions in parts of those countries.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicts that fully 2 million farms will cooperate with various phases of its water and soil conservation programs during the fiscal year ahead.

These programs are carried on by local soil conservation districts through the department's Soil Conservation Service. There are 2,920 districts functioning now.

The department estimated that full conservation programs will have been developed for 1.5 million farms by mid-1963.

Son Of Judge, Ex-Legislator Is Disbarred

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — Atty. James L. Arnold of Moundsville, former member of the House of Delegates and son of a circuit judge, was disbarred Monday for irregularities in handling divorce cases.

The order to which he consented was signed by Special Judge Eugene White annuls Arnold's license and denies him the right to practice law anywhere in the state.

The Legal Ethics Committee of the West Virginia State Bar filed the complaint last week, contending Arnold purported to have obtained divorces for several clients and accepted fees although no divorce proceedings had been actually filed.

Marshall County Prosecutor Everett Cox said he expected to go before the grand jury next month to seek forgery indictments against Arnold in connection with the divorce cases. The jury convenes Feb. 13.

Arnold was directed to pay court costs and attorneys fees.

The 34-year-old Moundsville attorney is a son of Circuit Judge Lloyd Arnold and served in the House of Delegates from 1956 to 1958.

There was no testimony taken in open court and Arnold did not put in an appearance in the courtroom during the brief proceedings.

Nothing Believed Lost In Glenmoor Entry

John E. Eiferd of the Calcutta-Cannons Mills Rd. advised sheriff's deputies nothing apparently was taken in an entry discovered at his home about 12:50 a. m. today.

He reported to the sheriff's office he found a door leading to a cellar had been broken open and tracks of three intruders on the newly-planted lawn. Monday, phoned the sheriff from a neighbor's home and Deputies Herman Wellman and James Gause investigated. Eiferd said he doesn't keep any money around the home.

DiSalle, Members Of Cabinet Holding Another Seminar

CLEVELAND (AP)—Gov. Michael V. DiSalle and members of his cabinet are holding another in a series of seminars on the state's government and finances today and tonight at Case Institute of Technology.

In this session, as in two previous seminars at Toledo and Cincinnati, state officials are expected to state a need for greater state expenditures to handle problems arising from a growing population, rising costs, and increased demands for state services.

About 2,000 invitations were sent out to leaders in parent teacher association groups, welfare organizations and civil groups. A state spokesman said about 500 reservations were made. The sessions are open to the public.

Five more such seminars are scheduled for Columbus, Youngstown, Dayton, Canton and Akron.

The governor talked finances in a speech Monday night at Massillon, where he told a Junior Chamber of Commerce banquet that personal income in Ohio reportedly will be up 8 per cent this year. "If a similar increase is reflected in state income," he said, "We'd be in good shape."

He reiterated his belief that with existing tax structures Ohio can operate on a pay-as-you-go basis and avoid borrowing.

He hit at the Republican - controlled legislature for budget cuts which, he said, forced cuts in state programs for higher education, mental health, juvenile training, aid to the aged, and dependent children and general relief.

Grumbling Behind Scenes

Hard-Pressed GOP Faces Near Flop In Fund Drive

By JACK BELL

WASHINGTON (AP) — Hard-pressed Republicans are facing what some of them fear may be a near financial flop in their Feb. 1 across-the-nation fund raising spectacular.

Because of this there is grumbling behind the scenes about what organization Republicans contend is a continuing effort to tap wealthy Eastern contributors for funds to help former Vice President Richard M. Nixon in his race for governor of California.

Some of these Republicans thought they had detected a new touch in invitations sent out by Eugene McGovern, Long Island contractor, for a luncheon with Nixon at the Waldorf Astoria.

But McGovern, who served in the Navy with Nixon during World War II, said in a telephone interview it was "just a sentimental occasion." McGovern, who worked with the Nixon-Lodge volunteers in New York's Westchester County in 1960, denied there was any thought of raising funds for Nixon's campaign.

However, Republicans charged with raising funds for this year's congressional and senatorial campaigns feel that too many trips are being made to the usually reliable wells of party contributions.

They have had to revise downward their hopes they might net $500,000 or more from the closed-circuit television appearances Feb. 1 of Nixon, former President Dwight D. Eisenhower, Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller of New York and Sen. Barry Goldwater, R-Ariz.

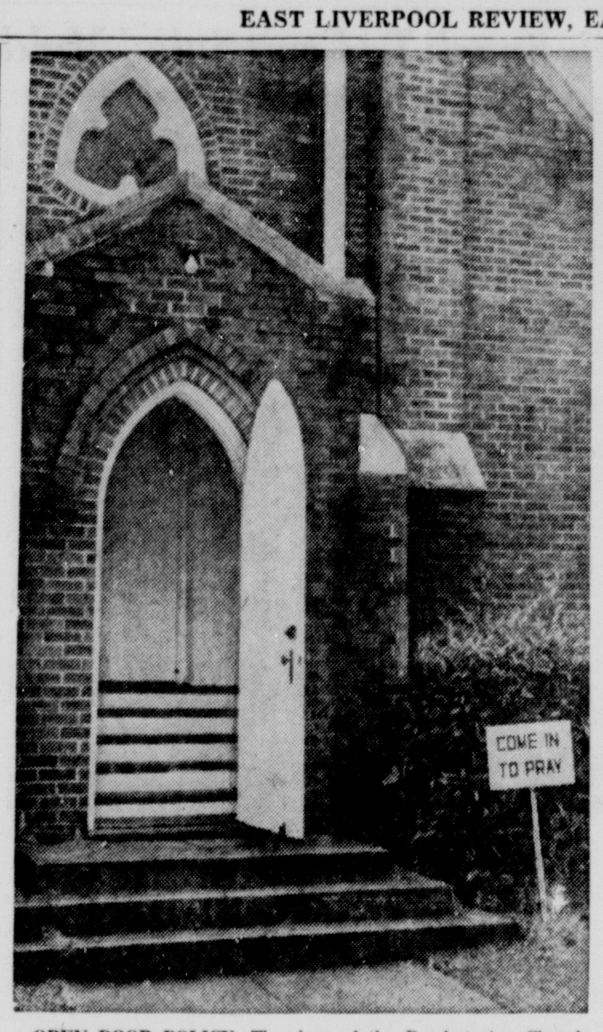

Because they have had to put up about $250,000 to bring off the closed-circuit deal, some of them feel they may be lucky to net $300,000.

This is a far cry from the $1 million or more they used to bank when Eisenhower was president. It compares with the $550,000 the Democrats took home from President Kennedy's inaugural anniversary dinner here Saturday night.

As some party leaders now view it, they may have to depend on a Cleveland dinner, at which Goldwater will speak, and a Washington affair for their largest share of receipts.

National Chairman William E. Miller will serve as master of ceremonies at the Washington dinner. It will be held in a hotel with a seating capacity of about 1,300 persons, compared with the 6,000 the Democrats crammed into an armory for Kennedy's second-year sendoff.

The GOP sponsors weren't successful in lining up a big-time dinner in New York, so Rockefeller will speak in Des Moines, Iowa.

OPEN DOOR POLICY. The door of the Presbyterian Church in Albany, Ga., is wide open and the sign to the right reads "Come in to Pray." The suggestion was made by parishioners for those who thought the church was closed on weekdays. The door remains open 24 hours each day.

Perils Elevator System

By OVID A. MARTIN

WASHINGTON (AP)—The grain trade is complaining that the Agriculture Department's feed grain program is threatening the health of the nation's country elevator system.

In a letter to Undersecretary of Agriculture Charles S. Murphy, the Grain and Feed Dealers National Association finds fault with the way the government is selling surplus corn and sorghum grain. Such sales are being made to raise money to pay farmers for reducing acreages of these two grains last year.

The letter says the department is expected to sell around 800 million bushels of corn during the current market year and that 80 per cent will be taken out of country elevators. The remainder will be taken from the government's own storage facilities.

It says the loss in storage business is causing hardship for many elevators.

WASHINGTON (AP) — World wheat production in 1961 is estimated at 7,755,000,000 bushels by the Foreign Agriculture Service. This is about 300 million less than in 1960.

This estimate is slightly less than a forecast made last fall, mainly because estimates of the Soviet Union and mainland China have been reduced to reflect unfavorable growing conditions in parts of those countries.

WASHINGTON (AP)—The Agriculture Department predicts that fully 2 million farms will cooperate with various phases of its water and soil conservation programs during the fiscal year ahead.

These programs are carried on by local soil conservation districts through the department's Soil Conservation Service. There are 2,920 districts functioning now.

The department estimated that full conservation programs will have been developed for 1.5 million farms by mid-1963.

Son Of Judge, Ex-Legislator Is Disbarred

MOUNDSVILLE, W. Va. (AP) — Atty. James L. Arnold of Moundsville, former member of the House of Delegates and son of a circuit judge, was disbarred Monday for irregularities in handling divorce cases.

The order to which he consented was signed by Special Judge Eugene White annuls Arnold's license and denies him the right to practice law anywhere in the state.

The Legal Ethics Committee of the West Virginia State Bar filed the complaint last week, contending Arnold purported to have obtained divorces for several clients and accepted fees although no divorce proceedings had been actually filed.

Marshall County Prosecutor Everett Cox said he expected to go before the grand jury next month to seek forgery indictments against Arnold in connection with the divorce cases. The jury convenes Feb. 13.

Arnold was directed to pay court costs and attorneys fees.

The 34-year-old Moundsville attorney is a son of Circuit Judge Lloyd Arnold and served in the House of Delegates from 1956 to 1958.

There was no testimony taken in open court and Arnold did not put in an appearance in the courtroom during the brief proceedings.

Hopes Rise For Accord In Guinea Issue

UNITED NATIONS, N.Y. (AP) —Acting U.N. Secretary-General U Thant held exploratory talks Monday night with the Netherlands and Indonesia as hopes rose for a peaceful settlement to the dispute over West New Guinea.

Thant met separately with representatives of the two nations for the first time since both agreed to his offer to serve as go-between.

The secretary-general conferred first for 35 minutes with Dutch Ambassador C. W. A. Schurmann, then talked for more than an hour with Subjarwo Tjondronegoro, an Indonesian expert on West New Guinea sent here by President Sukarno to represent his government.

Indonesian delegate Sukarjo Wirjopranoto, who accompanied Tjondronegoro to the conference with Thant, said the Jakarta envoy filled Thant in on the current situation in West New Guinea as Sukarno sees it and ranged over the whole problem.

"It was a pleasant meeting," he said.

The Indonesian delegate said, however, that Sukarno is standing firm on his insistence that negotiations proceed only if the Netherlands agrees in advance to transfer the disputed territory to Indonesian administration.

The Netherlands says it wants negotiations without prior conditions. It has suggested that Thant send observers to West New Guinea, where Dutch and Indonesian naval forces clashed last week.

The United States has endorsed Thant's efforts to get the Dutch and Indonesians to negotiating.

Bakery Union Vote Nears On Affiliation

CLEVELAND (AP) — With two factions both claiming they have majority support, the 365 delegates to the convention of the Bakery and Confectionery Workers Union (B&C) moved today toward a showdown vote to determine whether the union merges with the Teamsters Union, returns to the AFL-CIO, or remains independent.

A majority of the B&C officers favor the proposal of James R. Hoffa, Teamsters Union president, who wants to make the B&C the 18th division of the Teamsters. However, an anti - administration faction, which also claims majority support, wants the B&C to return to the AFL-CIO. There was no indication how many delegates favor remaining independent.

Hoffa addressed his appeal in an hour-long speech to the bitterly divided convention Monday, declaring that merger into the Teamsters would make for a stronger union.

He said merger with the Teamsters would bring several advantages to the 76-year-old B&C, including: shoring up of the B&C's weak financial position, strengthened bargaining power through setting common contract expiration dates with Teamsters locals representing baker drivers, and stronger protection against what Hoffa predicts will be the rapid undermining of job security resulting from automation in the baking industry.

Hoffa received courteous attention but only limited applause from the delegates.

WASHINGTON (AP) — Atty. Gen. Robert F. Kennedy has declined an informal invitation to visit the Soviet Union next month on his trip around the world. But he says he looks forward to visiting there in the future.

Kennedy issued a statement Monday night following a day of speculation about the meaning of the Soviet invitation.

The brother of President Kennedy said: "I have received an informal invitation to visit the Soviet Union during my currently planned trip.

"My travel plans, however, have been completed for some time and I will not be able to alter them at this time. I will, however, look forward to visiting the Soviet Union in the future."

Neither Kennedy, the Justice Department nor the White House would say who issued the invitation. A Justice Department spokesman said it was received last Thursday.

The decision apparently was reached after discussions among the attorney general, the President and Secretary of State Dean Rusk.

The younger Kennedy and his wife, Ethel, will be making goodwill visits to Japan, Indonesia, Iran, Germany and the Netherlands, ending about Feb. 26. Last August they made a similar trip to West Africa.

Residents who yearn to hang a Klee or a Matisse on their home walls can have one for one pound ($2.80) a year.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Allowance Teaches Value Of Money

Growing children learn the value of money when they earn what they spend and when they are definitely limited in the amount of money given them to spend. Except for a few teenagers who find part - time or summer jobs, school - age children don't usually have opportunities to earn. In our prosperous nation, parents have a tendency to give children more spending money than is wholesome for them. The rise in proportion of the family income spent on children and by children seems to be increasing faster than the rise in family incomes.

ADDED TO THIS trend is the decline of parental control of children and the growing pressure to keep up with the Jonses. As a consequence, even youths employed part - time or full - time don't always match all they spend with what they earn.

To teach a child good values and character training in earning part or all of his spending money, some parents devise various ways to have him earn money. He may find a few jobs in the neighborhood, often because some neighbors wish to be kind.

Some parents require that the child, even at an early age, do regular chores at home for pay. When the child is old enough for a regular allowance, his parents may decide to have him earn the allowance by home duties. This seems logical and a few parents believe it works.

TWO PROBLEMS usually emerge, however.

(1) The child discovers he receives the allowance anyway, and may shirk on the jobs. If he is pressed to do them, he finds he may be punished by withholding of the allowance.

(2) The child paid for doing certain assigned jobs is hardly inclined to choose to do other things about the home unless paid. He hardly feels himself a responsible participating member of the family.

If you have required your child to earn his allowance, and are sure it works, it might be well to go on in this way. But as a rule, you will find better values for him if you face reality and assign him a regular budgeted allowance, expecting him to keep his expenditures within its limits.

ANY GOOD ALLOWANCE plan is budgeted with the help of the child. He should receive at regular intervals, preferably weekly, a total amount covering his constant needs.

Plus this he should be given a small amount for pocket money to spend as he chooses. A total sum merely for pocket money can hardly be correctly called an allowance.

My special bulletin "Allowances" (which may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper) suggests ways of beginning the allowance, revising it from time to time and holding the child to its desirable use.

Pomegranate Likely To Stage Comeback

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The pomegranate, a once - popular but now rare fruit, may be about to stage a comeback as the perfect fruit for fallout shelters.

This pear - sized Asian fruit brought to America by colonists must be picked apart, piece by tedious piece, to be eaten. It takes a long time to polish one off, and that may have been the cause of its decline in popular esteem.

But now the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, albeit tongue in cheek, is recommending pomegranates for fallout shelters — the bush to screen the entrance, and the fruit for nourishment and make-work.

School Aide Addresses 35

Better teaching in Church Schools was urged by the Rev. Howard F. Reisz of Pittsburgh at a joint dinner meeting of the Church School staffs of the Ohio View and St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Churches Monday night at the city church.

About 35 heard Rev. Reisz, director of parish education and youth work for the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, cover three main areas.

Rev. Reisz explained to the teachers their pupils must be "regarded as people as well as students."

He emphasized there are two sides to teaching — teaching and learning. Coverage of all the subject matter in a lesson is not as important as making meaningful to the pupils what they have learned.

Rev. Reisz also pointed out teachers must demonstrate the effects of their own teaching by such things as faithful attendance, daily Bible study and prayer and self improvement through training courses and retreats.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Woman Trims 2½ Sizes In 10 Months

Never underestimate the power of a woman once she has made up her mind to find the figure that is buried under the fat. Neither kidding nor skepticism can sway her from her determined course. Today's letter is a shining example:

Ida Jean Kain

"Last January 16, I weighed 199 pounds for 5 feet 3½. I'm only 25, but I felt old and tired and I hated to go out among people. I wore size 20½ dress. All my clothes looked like older women's. I was miserable. I ate because I was depressed and the bigger I got the more depressed I became."

"One day (as the saying goes) I had a good talk with myself. I took stock and determined to change. I got a calorie chart, studied foods, made menus for 1,000 calories a day. I took my measurements which were 44, 36, 44. I started my diet."

"I WEIGHED each morning and kept a chart. Each week I measured, and kept a record of the changes. The first week I lost five pounds and after that I lost only two to three pounds a week, sometimes one pound a week."

"I read all the articles I could find on foods, exercises and improving myself. I set up a program of exercise and have followed it faithfully. My goal was to get down to 150 pounds."

"Most people didn't encourage me. I work in a factory and I received a lot of kidding and was told I would never do it. No one noticed a change until I had lost about 20 pounds. When folks started commenting on my looking better that helped a lot."

"Now, ten months later I weigh 136 pounds. My measurements are 39, 27, 37½. The last dress I bought was a size 13. I feel younger, look younger and have lots more energy than before. My husband is so proud of me! I still exercise and watch what I eat.

"Overweight people are always asking me what I did to lose so much. I think most folks expect a miracle to take off fat overnight. What it takes is first of all a strong desire, backed up by determination.

"I have a rather large frame and I hope to hold my weight between 135 and 140. I seldom eat between meals and when I do it is low calorie food. I think the more you know about food the easier it is to reduce and control your weight."

—:—

"I HOPE MY experience can help someone else. Other reducers helped and encouraged me through your column."

Bless you for sharing. You are right, nutrition knowledge when applied, can give you power over the pounds. You are quite a girl . . .and my dietitian's cap is off to you!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Electric Blanket Thaws Frozen Calf

PITTSBURGH, Pa. (AP) — During a Texas sleetstorm, one of O. M. Spurlock's calves became separated from the herd.

But Mrs. Spurlock thought she detected a flicker of life in the animal, so she wrapped it in an electric blanket and plugged the cord into an outdoor socket.

Sputlock wrote to the blanket manufacturer (Westinghouse) that a few hours later he went outside and found "a completely thawed-out and otherwise healthy calf."

Hints of Jake Donelson's little-known war record appear in an almost illegible note attached to the portrait:

"Jake Donelson, Co. H, 3rd Tennesse Regiment, C. S. A.

"Enlisted at Camp Cheatham, May 1861. Captured at Fort Donelson, Feb. 16, 1862. Prisoner seven months and two days at Camp Douglass, Chicago. Died at Cornersville, Tenn., 1864. Buried with military honors."

Stimulating Interest In Art Library's Aim

LEEDS, England (AP) — This textile city has started a picture-lending library in an effort to stimulate interest in art.

Residents who yearn to hang a Klee or a Matisse on their home walls can have one for one pound ($2.80) a year.

Rental works include 160 original paintings and many more prints. There also are reproductions.

Most of the loan collection was a gift to the Leeds Art Gallery from the Calouste Gulbenkian Foundation. The gallery's permanent art collections will not be available for rentals.

"We believe we are the first gallery to lend original artists' prints and actual paintings," said Dr. John Sweetman, curator of the print room at the Leeds Gallery.

Bringing Up A Family

By GARRY C. MEYERS

Allowance Teaches Value Of Money

Growing children learn the value of money when they earn what they spend and when they are definitely limited in the amount of money given them to spend. Except for a few teenagers who find part - time or summer jobs, school - age children don't usually have opportunities to earn. In our prosperous nation, parents have a tendency to give children more spending money than is wholesome for them. The rise in proportion of the family income spent on children and by children seems to be increasing faster than the rise in family incomes.

ADDED TO THIS trend is the decline of parental control of children and the growing pressure to keep up with the Jonses. As a consequence, even youths employed part - time or full - time don't always match all they spend with what they earn.

To teach a child good values and character training in earning part or all of his spending money, some parents devise various ways to have him earn money. He may find a few jobs in the neighborhood, often because some neighbors wish to be kind.

Some parents require that the child, even at an early age, do regular chores at home for pay. When the child is old enough for a regular allowance, his parents may decide to have him earn the allowance by home duties. This seems logical and a few parents believe it works.

TWO PROBLEMS usually emerge, however.

(1) The child discovers he receives the allowance anyway, and may shirk on the jobs. If he is pressed to do them, he finds he may be punished by withholding of the allowance.

(2) The child paid for doing certain assigned jobs is hardly inclined to choose to do other things about the home unless paid. He hardly feels himself a responsible participating member of the family.

If you have required your child to earn his allowance, and are sure it works, it might be well to go on in this way. But as a rule, you will find better values for him if you face reality and assign him a regular budgeted allowance, expecting him to keep his expenditures within its limits.

ANY GOOD ALLOWANCE plan is budgeted with the help of the child. He should receive at regular intervals, preferably weekly, a total amount covering his constant needs.

Plus this he should be given a small amount for pocket money to spend as he chooses. A total sum merely for pocket money can hardly be correctly called an allowance.

My special bulletin "Allowances" (which may be had by sending a self - addressed, stamped envelope to me in care of this newspaper) suggests ways of beginning the allowance, revising it from time to time and holding the child to its desirable use.

Pomegranate Likely To Stage Comeback

TALLAHASSEE, Fla. (AP) — The pomegranate, a once - popular but now rare fruit, may be about to stage a comeback as the perfect fruit for fallout shelters.

This pear - sized Asian fruit brought to America by colonists must be picked apart, piece by tedious piece, to be eaten. It takes a long time to polish one off, and that may have been the cause of its decline in popular esteem.

But now the Florida Agricultural Extension Service, albeit tongue in cheek, is recommending pomegranates for fallout shelters — the bush to screen the entrance, and the fruit for nourishment and make-work.

School Aide Addresses 35

Better teaching in Church Schools was urged by the Rev. Howard F. Reisz of Pittsburgh at a joint dinner meeting of the Church School staffs of the Ohio View and St. John's Evangelical Lutheran Churches Monday night at the city church.

About 35 heard Rev. Reisz, director of parish education and youth work for the Pittsburgh Synod of the United Lutheran Church in America, cover three main areas.

Rev. Reisz explained to the teachers their pupils must be "regarded as people as well as students."

He emphasized there are two sides to teaching — teaching and learning. Coverage of all the subject matter in a lesson is not as important as making meaningful to the pupils what they have learned.

Rev. Reisz also pointed out teachers must demonstrate the effects of their own teaching by such things as faithful attendance, daily Bible study and prayer and self improvement through training courses and retreats.

Keep In Trim

By IDA JEAN KAIN

Woman Trims 2½ Sizes In 10 Months

Never underestimate the power of a woman once she has made up her mind to find the figure that is buried under the fat. Neither kidding nor skepticism can sway her from her determined course. Today's letter is a shining example:

Ida Jean Kain

"Last January 16, I weighed 199 pounds for 5 feet 3½. I'm only 25, but I felt old and tired and I hated to go out among people. I wore size 20½ dress. All my clothes looked like older women's. I was miserable. I ate because I was depressed and the bigger I got the more depressed I became."

"One day (as the saying goes) I had a good talk with myself. I took stock and determined to change. I got a calorie chart, studied foods, made menus for 1,000 calories a day. I took my measurements which were 44, 36, 44. I started my diet."

"I WEIGHED each morning and kept a chart. Each week I measured, and kept a record of the changes. The first week I lost five pounds and after that I lost only two to three pounds a week, sometimes one pound a week."

"I read all the articles I could find on foods, exercises and improving myself. I set up a program of exercise and have followed it faithfully. My goal was to get down to 150 pounds."

"Most people didn't encourage me. I work in a factory and I received a lot of kidding and was told I would never do it. No one noticed a change until I had lost about 20 pounds. When folks started commenting on my looking better that helped a lot."

"Now, ten months later I weigh 136 pounds. My measurements are 39, 27, 37½. The last dress I bought was a size 13. I feel younger, look younger and have lots more energy than before. My husband is so proud of me! I still exercise and watch what I eat.

"Overweight people are always asking me what I did to lose so much. I think most folks expect a miracle to take off fat overnight. What it takes is first of all a strong desire, backed up by determination.

"I have a rather large frame and I hope to hold my weight between 135 and 140. I seldom eat between meals and when I do it is low calorie food. I think the more you know about food the easier it is to reduce and control your weight."

"I HOPE MY experience can help someone else. Other reducers helped and encouraged me through your column."

Bless you for sharing. You are right, nutrition knowledge when applied, can give you power over the pounds. You are quite a girl . . .and my dietitian's cap is off to you!

Send a stamped, self-addressed, long envelope for "Revised Calorie Chart." Address your request to Ida Jean Kain in care of this newspaper. Postcard requests cannot be answered.

Electric Blanket Thaws Frozen Calf

But Mrs. Spurlock thought she detected a flicker of life in the animal, so she wrapped it in an electric blanket and plugged the cord into an outdoor socket.

Sputlock wrote to the blanket manufacturer (Westinghouse) that a few hours later he went outside and found "a completely thawed-out and otherwise healthy calf."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am gravely concerned about our 7-year-old son, Gregory.

A few weeks ago our neighbors phoned to report that Gregory had been seen throwing lighted matches at their collie. Gregory denied it and said the big boys were just trying to get him into trouble. I believed him.

This morning I glanced out the window and saw Gregory beating a small kitten with a stick. I rushed out of the house and gave him a severe scolding. He said he was just petting the kitten but I know better.

Gregory is an only child. My husband and I both work but we have a competent housekeeper who has been with us five years. She is strict with Gregory and does a fine job of disciplining him. We are at a loss to understand this sadistic streak. What should be done?—Q.T.

Dear Q. T.: A child who would burn a dog with matches and beat a kitten with a stick is acting out violent hostilities.

Perhaps the housekeeper employs more rigid disciplinary measures than you suspect. Youngsters who behave in a destructive and sadistic manner are "getting even" with a world which has treated them unjustly.

Rearrange your work schedule and be at home when Gregory arrives from school. Your full - time job may be costing you more than you know. The child needs a mother's love and attention — and perhaps some therapy as well.

Worth The Cost

Dear Ann: Mother and I have been arguing about something since Christmas. Can you settle it?

We live in an apartment building. Mother mailed a Christmas card to each of the tenants. I say she should have dropped the cards in the mailboxes and saved the stamp money. She says that a few people in the building have done this and that it looks cheap. I say the only thing that counts is that the people receive their cards. It doesn't matter if the card comes through the Post Office.

Dear Frugal: If a friend is worth remembering with a card he is worth the 4 cents it takes to send the card through the mail. Save on something else.

Thanks From A Wife

Dear Ann: As the wife of a police officer I want to thank you for your speaking out in behalf of our men. Your recent reply to Denver Mother was heart warming to the wives, mothers and daughters of the "Bluecoats."

I was especially happy you pointed out that the majority of the men on the force are honest and hard working. And that they are paid meager salaries (for the most part) for risking their lives daily.

The average citizen has an image of the police officer which is based on stories of scandal or graft because such things ARE news.

The public is not concerned that these men work long and grueling hours. Nor are they aware that most officers must buy their own uniforms and even the bullets they use.

When sympathetic and knowledgable people such as you speak up, Ann, it gives us courage to carry on. Thank you.—E. J. M., New Orleans.

Confidentially

TO DIAMOND: Simply say, "Who needs one when I've got him?" No further comment, apology or excuse is necessary.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Payroll Step For Franklin Waits Books

Possible action in providing payroll funds for teachers of the Franklin School at Summitville was postponed by the Southern Local School District Board of Education Monday night when the financial books of the former Franklin Local District were not delivered.

Ed Jarrett, former president of the board of the Franklin district, merged last fall with the Southern Local District, explained that his wife, Mrs. Donna Jarrett, former Franklin clerk, desired additional time to prepare her records.

Jarrett said the books would be turned over Wednesday to Mrs. Beatrice Hirst, Southern Local clerk, and the Southern Local board agreed to meet again in special session tomorrow night to consider the financial plight of the Franklin teachers.

Checks issued to the faculty last week on the Farmers National Bank at Hanoverton were subsequently found to be made out to overdrawn funds and, although two teachers received pay, three others were requested not to cash checks until the matter had been cleared.

Jarrett said last night that apparently there had been a bookkeeping error which had resulted in the fund problem, indicating th previously some checks had been written but not carried over on the account.

The former Franklin board was requested to deliver its records to the Southern Local board in November, it was reported last night, and County Supt. James McBride yesterday again requested Mrs. Jarrett to make her records available to the board.

Fred Johnson of Summitville also appeared before the Southern Local board last night, again advising board members an appeal is planned on a scheduled election Feb. 13 on a proposal to merge Franklin with three Carroll County districts.

Printing of ballots for the special election has been halted pending the appeal. A transcript of court proceeding of the Franklin hearings is to be prepared for the appeal.

The board last night passed a resolution providing that an additional plaque, bearing the names of the present board, will be installed at the planned high school along Route 39 east of Salineville. A plaque with the names of the 1961 board was ordered last year.

Too Heavy To Load

Power Shovel In Hancock Balked For Landslide Use

A big power shovel being used in the Chester area apparently will remain in Hancock County although needed badly at the scene of a huge landslide which has blocked a 300-foot section of State Route 2 in Moundsville.

Julian Wilson, supervisor of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission, said crews worked long hours Monday night in moving the big shovel from Allison School Rd. to Route 2 where it was to have been loaded onto "lowboys" for transport to Moundsville.

But the workers were unable to load the 55-ton power shovel onto the low-slung trailers and the equipment apparently will remain in Hancock County for additional work on Allison School Rd.

A call went out for heavy equipment Monday when 15,000 tons of rock and earth, loosened by two days of rain, crashed down on State Route 2 a mile north of Moundsville.

The slide also tore up 400 feet of track of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's Ohio River Main line—running parallel with the highway. The rails were twisted like giant pretzels.

The track — serving all of the line's north-south rail transportation — will remain closed for at least two days.

Heavy equipment was being brought in from other parts of the state to help clear away the slide in Moundsville and another in Pleasants County below St. Marys.

But they faced additional problems even if the equipment had been loaded — three low underpasses between Hancock County and Moundsville.

Wilson pointed out the shovel would have had to have been unloaded three different times during the trip because it is too big to move through the underpasses while resting on the movers. Clearance of each underpass is 14 feet 6.

Man Unhurt As Rig Hits Fallen Stone

A 43-year-old Steubenville area trucker escaped injury when his semi-trailer rig smashed into a large stone which had fallen from the cliff on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super Road Monday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol, which investigated two other district road mishaps yesterday, said the undercarriage of the rig, driven by Albert G. Anderson of Steubenville R. D. 1, was extensively damaged.

Anderson was headed west when his rig struck the stone, estimated to weigh 1,600 pounds, in the inside lane.

Ohio Highway Department road workers were called to use a high-lift machine to remove the obstacle.

Thomas Price, 53, of 1752 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was cited after his car was involved in a sideswipe mishap on Route 170 between Route 30 and Calcutta yesterday.

Officers said Price attempted to pass another car operated by Gary T. Weekley, 23, of 1748 Wyoming Ave. as the latter made a left turn. Price was charged with passing over a yellow line.

Damage was moderate, the patrol said.

Glen Akenhead, 48, of New Waterford R. D. 1 was cited for driving left of center after his car swerved from Route 14 about two miles west of Unity at 11 p. m., crossed a lawn and struck a tree.

Akenhead escaped injury, but his car received considerable damage, the patrol said. The mishap occurred on property owned by Hazel Davis of New Waterford R. D. 1.

2 Introduced To Firemen

Richard VanKirk and Emerson McFall were introduced as prospective new firemen when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night in the fire hall.

The need for more men to staff the department adequately was announced. Dale Horger, vice president, presided.

Chief Laverne Seckman reported on a visit with Norman Neal of Oakmont, president, who is recuperating at home with injuries received in a fall from a roof. "The doctors are pleased with his progress," Seckman told the group.

Clarence Dick presented the treasurer's report. New keys are to be issued members due to changing of the locks on the fire hall. The keys are being made.

The Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a public card party at the fire hall Wednesday night.

Firemen plan to attend the Tri-State Firemen's Association meeting Wednesday night in Wellsville when new officers will be installed.

Twenty attended. Next meeting is Monday night.

Books Mainly For Sissies?

Professor Claims Girls Read Better Than Boys

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent State University professor says boys can't read as well as girls because they think books are mainly for sissies.

Dr. Stanley C. Krippner, director of Kent's reading center, reported Monday one of every three pupils in the grade through high school level is poor in reading—and most of them are boys.

"With so many strikes against him," he said, "it's a wonder Johnny reads as well as he does."

He said Johnny has trouble with reading because he thinks it is "something for girls," his physical development is slower and he's under more pressure.

"Parents tend to put more pressure on their sons and this increases their anxiety about school," said Dr. Krippner. "This leads to worse grades rather than better ones."

He pointed out boys are more likely to have brain damage occurring from improper use of instruments or lack of oxygen at birth. A recent study, he said, showed injury to a small part of the brain can produce severe reading difficulty.

"One sixth of the poor readers probably suffer from this handicap," he said.

He called for more cooperation between parents and schools in helping Johnny to whip the problem.

His suggestions:

Try to interest Johnny in books. Fathers who read to their sons may help them to accept reading easier.

Have a competent doctor check your child's eyes and ears, Krippner said, "because often tests now used in school are not adequate to find the difficulties until too late."

Ann Landers

ANSWERS YOUR PROBLEMS

Dear Ann Landers: I am gravely concerned about our 7-year-old son, Gregory.

A few weeks ago our neighbors phoned to report that Gregory had been seen throwing lighted matches at their collie. Gregory denied it and said the big boys were just trying to get him into trouble. I believed him.

This morning I glanced out the window and saw Gregory beating a small kitten with a stick. I rushed out of the house and gave him a severe scolding. He said he was just petting the kitten but I know better.

Gregory is an only child. My husband and I both work but we have a competent housekeeper who has been with us five years. She is strict with Gregory and does a fine job of disciplining him. We are at a loss to understand this sadistic streak. What should be done?—Q.T.

Dear Q. T.: A child who would burn a dog with matches and beat a kitten with a stick is acting out violent hostilities.

Perhaps the housekeeper employs more rigid disciplinary measures than you suspect. Youngsters who behave in a destructive and sadistic manner are "getting even" with a world which has treated them unjustly.

Rearrange your work schedule and be at home when Gregory arrives from school. Your full - time job may be costing you more than you know. The child needs a mother's love and attention — and perhaps some therapy as well.

Worth The Cost

Dear Ann: Mother and I have been arguing about something since Christmas. Can you settle it?

We live in an apartment building. Mother mailed a Christmas card to each of the tenants. I say she should have dropped the cards in the mailboxes and saved the stamp money. She says that a few people in the building have done this and that it looks cheap. I say the only thing that counts is that the people receive their cards. It doesn't matter if the card comes through the Post Office.

Dear Frugal: If a friend is worth remembering with a card he is worth the 4 cents it takes to send the card through the mail. Save on something else.

Thanks From A Wife

Dear Ann: As the wife of a police officer I want to thank you for your speaking out in behalf of our men. Your recent reply to Denver Mother was heart warming to the wives, mothers and daughters of the "Bluecoats."

I was especially happy you pointed out that the majority of the men on the force are honest and hard working. And that they are paid meager salaries (for the most part) for risking their lives daily.

The average citizen has an image of the police officer which is based on stories of scandal or graft because such things ARE news.

The public is not concerned that these men work long and grueling hours. Nor are they aware that most officers must buy their own uniforms and even the bullets they use.

When sympathetic and knowledgable people such as you speak up, Ann, it gives us courage to carry on. Thank you.—E. J. M., New Orleans.

Confidentially

TO DIAMOND: Simply say, "Who needs one when I've got him?" No further comment, apology or excuse is necessary.

Ann Landers will be glad to help you with your problems. Send them to her in care of The Review, enclosing a stamped, self-addressed envelope.

Payroll Step For Franklin Waits Books

Possible action in providing payroll funds for teachers of the Franklin School at Summitville was postponed by the Southern Local School District Board of Education Monday night when the financial books of the former Franklin Local District were not delivered.

Ed Jarrett, former president of the board of the Franklin district, merged last fall with the Southern Local District, explained that his wife, Mrs. Donna Jarrett, former Franklin clerk, desired additional time to prepare her records.

Jarrett said the books would be turned over Wednesday to Mrs. Beatrice Hirst, Southern Local clerk, and the Southern Local board agreed to meet again in special session tomorrow night to consider the financial plight of the Franklin teachers.

Checks issued to the faculty last week on the Farmers National Bank at Hanoverton were subsequently found to be made out to overdrawn funds and, although two teachers received pay, three others were requested not to cash checks until the matter had been cleared.

Jarrett said last night that apparently there had been a bookkeeping error which had resulted in the fund problem, indicating th previously some checks had been written but not carried over on the account.

The former Franklin board was requested to deliver its records to the Southern Local board in November, it was reported last night, and County Supt. James McBride yesterday again requested Mrs. Jarrett to make her records available to the board.

Fred Johnson of Summitville also appeared before the Southern Local board last night, again advising board members an appeal is planned on a scheduled election Feb. 13 on a proposal to merge Franklin with three Carroll County districts.

Printing of ballots for the special election has been halted pending the appeal. A transcript of court proceeding of the Franklin hearings is to be prepared for the appeal.

The board last night passed a resolution providing that an additional plaque, bearing the names of the present board, will be installed at the planned high school along Route 39 east of Salineville. A plaque with the names of the 1961 board was ordered last year.

New Grant Assures Study Of Plant Life

CHICAGO (AP) — A scientific study of the plant life of Guatemala, started in 1941 by Paul C. Standley, former curator of the Chicago Natural History Museum's herbarium department, will continue under a new research grant.

Standley retired and the work is continuing under Dr. Louis A. Williams who has received a new award of $29,500 from the National Science Foundation.

The collection of flora from Guatemala now is in its ninth volume published by the museum.

Dr. Williams lived a number of years in Central America as a botonist and subdirector of the Escuela Agriculture Pan-Americana near Tegucigalpa, Honduras.

Power Shovel In Hancock Balked For Landslide Use

A big power shovel being used in the Chester area apparently will remain in Hancock County although needed badly at the scene of a huge landslide which has blocked a 300-foot section of State Route 2 in Moundsville.

Julian Wilson, supervisor of the Pughtown Garage of the West Virginia State Road Commission, said crews worked long hours Monday night in moving the big shovel from Allison School Rd. to Route 2 where it was to have been loaded onto "lowboys" for transport to Moundsville.

But the workers were unable to load the 55-ton power shovel onto the low-slung trailers and the equipment apparently will remain in Hancock County for additional work on Allison School Rd.

A call went out for heavy equipment Monday when 15,000 tons of rock and earth, loosened by two days of rain, crashed down on State Route 2 a mile north of Moundsville.

The slide also tore up 400 feet of track of the Baltimore & Ohio Railroad's Ohio River Main line—running parallel with the highway. The rails were twisted like giant pretzels.

The track — serving all of the line's north-south rail transportation — will remain closed for at least two days.

Heavy equipment was being brought in from other parts of the state to help clear away the slide in Moundsville and another in Pleasants County below St. Marys.

But they faced additional problems even if the equipment had been loaded — three low underpasses between Hancock County and Moundsville.

Wilson pointed out the shovel would have had to have been unloaded three different times during the trip because it is too big to move through the underpasses while resting on the movers. Clearance of each underpass is 14 feet 6.

Man Unhurt As Rig Hits Fallen Stone

A 43-year-old Steubenville area trucker escaped injury when his semi-trailer rig smashed into a large stone which had fallen from the cliff on the East Liverpool-Wellsville Super Road Monday night.

The Ohio Highway Patrol, which investigated two other district road mishaps yesterday, said the undercarriage of the rig, driven by Albert G. Anderson of Steubenville R. D. 1, was extensively damaged.

Anderson was headed west when his rig struck the stone, estimated to weigh 1,600 pounds, in the inside lane.

Ohio Highway Department road workers were called to use a high-lift machine to remove the obstacle.

Thomas Price, 53, of 1752 Clark Ave., Wellsville, was cited after his car was involved in a side-swipe mishap on Route 170 between Route 30 and Calcutta yesterday.

Officers said Price attempted to pass another car operated by Gary T. Weekley, 23, of 1748 Wyoming Ave. as the latter made a left turn. Price was charged with passing over a yellow line.

Damage was moderate, the patrol said.

Glen Akenhead, 48, of New Waterford R. D. 1 was cited for driving left of center after his car swerved from Route 14 about two miles west of Unity at 11 p. m., crossed a lawn and struck a tree.

Akenhead escaped injury, but his car received considerable damage, the patrol said. The mishap occurred on property owned by Hazel Davis of New Waterford R. D. 1.

2 Introduced To Firemen

Richard VanKirk and Emerson McFall were introduced as prospective new firemen when Calcutta volunteer firemen met Monday night in the fire hall.

The need for more men to staff the department adequately was announced. Dale Horger, vice president, presided.

Chief Laverne Seckman reported on a visit with Norman Neal of Oakmont, president, who is recuperating at home with injuries received in a fall from a roof. "The doctors are pleased with his progress," Seckman told the group.

Clarence Dick presented the treasurer's report. New keys are to be issued members due to changing of the locks on the fire hall. The keys are being made.

The Lincoln School Parent-Teacher Association will sponsor a public card party at the fire hall Wednesday night.

Firemen plan to attend the Tri-State Firemen's Association meeting Wednesday night in Wellsville when new officers will be installed.

Twenty attended. Next meeting is Monday night.

Books Mainly For Sissies?

Professor Claims Girls Read Better Than Boys

KENT, Ohio (AP)—A Kent State University professor says boys can't read as well as girls because they think books are mainly for sissies.

Dr. Stanley C. Krippner, director of Kent's reading center, reported Monday one of every three pupils in the grade through high school level is poor in reading—and most of them are boys.

"With so many strikes against him," he said, "it's a wonder Johnny reads as well as he does."

He said Johnny has trouble with reading because he thinks it is "something for girls," his physical development is slower and he's under more pressure.

"Parents tend to put more pressure on their sons and this increases their anxiety about school," said Dr. Krippner. "This leads to worse grades rather than better ones."

He pointed out boys are more likely to have brain damage occurring from improper use of instruments or lack of oxygen at birth. A recent study, he said, showed injury to a small part of the brain can produce severe reading difficulty.

"One sixth of the poor readers probably suffer from this handicap," he said.

He called for more cooperation between parents and schools in helping Johnny to whip the problem.

His suggestions:

Try to interest Johnny in books. Fathers who read to their sons may help them to accept reading easier.

Have a competent doctor check your child's eyes and ears, Krippner said, "because often tests now used in school are not adequate to find the difficulties until too late."

Farmer, Garageman Had Bad Day All Day

PEMBINE, Wis. (AP) — It was just one of those days for William Anderson, who farms and also has a job in a garage.

At 9 a.m., a car battery foamed up and splattered his clothes with battery acid.

At 2 p.m., a jack handle slipped and cut him on the nose.

Out Of The Air

ALAN GILL

The Blonde Who's About To Enter Your Life

You will have no say in the matter. A blonde is about to enter your life.

Small. Brown eyes that give you the feeling an electrical storm is gathering. A musical voice. And the name is Peggy McCay.

How could she fail to enter your life (at least for an evening) when she has been given, by fiat of ABC-TV, a whole half hour of your prime evening time, starting next Saturday?

Her show, "Room for One More," a situation comedy about a couple given to having and adopting small children, is based on a book and a Cary Grant movie of the same name, and may or may not be worth your time.

I'VE HASTENED through these amenities in order to get back to Miss McCay. At lunch the other day, she gave me an earful about acting, soap operas, child stars and movie dogs.

Her stamina is just this side of one-stop. Her gestures — she's an Actors Studio alumna — are expressive, like a basketball referee's. And if the anecdote at hand requires standing up, Peggy McCay will oblige.

Miss McCay on TV husbands and wives:

"You know, I watch all those other domestic comedies. And all the husbands and wives, poor things, they're so cool and antiseptic.

"On our show, Andy Duggan and I are at least human. We do evil things like drink martinis.

"OF COURSE, we can't go too far. In one episode, where I'm pooped out and plop down on the couch with him and put my feet up on his lap, I did the natural thing — I kicked off my shoes. And as we talked, he, you know, sort of massaged my feet.

"And they wanted to take it out. They were afraid of foot fetishes, of all things! But we won and the feet stayed.

"However, they took out the line Andy threw in which was 'Honey, have you counted your toes lately?' Thought it might offent somebody with a lot of toes."

ABOUT CHILD actors:

"The kids on the program are wonderful. They have that extra sense, you know. When a line sounds wrong, they turn it around and make it sound right.

"And they grow! Timmy Rooney, who's Mickey Rooney's boy, has grown 7 inches since we began shooting the show. And all those viewers will just think I'm getting smaller!"

ABOUT DOG actors:

"Well, the dog caste system out there is worse than the human caste system. The star dog pulls up in a white Cadillac; his standin arrives in a beat-up station wagon.

"You play a scene with a dog, with the trainer yak-yakking his commands, and Bowser ruins every take; you finally get the scene fine on the 50th take, and then the trainer says, 'Naw, won't do. His ear was folded.'

"They don't care which is YOUR good profile, they want the dog's good profile.

"And then, to get the dog to kiss you, they rub sausage meat over your ear. I was complaining about this to Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Sir Cedric pooh-poohed it all. In one picture, he said, he had to put liver pate in his nose."

ON SOAP operas:

"For three years and for more than 1,000 installments, I played Vanessa, the tragedy-beset heroine in the television serial, 'Love of Life.' I memorized every day's 15-minute script without a hitch, without a fluff for 400 shows. They called me the Rock of Gibraltar.

"Then one afternoon I found myself sitting at a desk, without knowing what I was doing there, and a man was talking to me, and then I saw the television camera and realized I was on TV. A complete blackout.

"Then I heard the cue and I saw the typewritten script in my mind and all those parentheses. Vanessa trembles: that's a parenthesis. Vanessa valiantly brushes away a tear: that's a parenthesis.

"Somehow, I went through the thing just working the parentheses. I couldn't see what was in between. I saw the kinescope later. Very strange. Very slow and spooky."

Right now? Well, there is nothing strange or slow or spooky about this girl at all. And if she'll just rub a little sausage meat on her ear .....

Emergency Phone Shift Set At Lisbon

Mayor Dean Stockman was instructed to contact the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to arrange for the transfer. The sheriff is discontinuing the service because of the county budget cut. The sheriff's office has handled the emergency calls for three years. The fee for the village at the new location, on W. Lincoln Way, will be $4 monthly. The hookup will permit sounding of the fire siren, which is on the jail building.

James Calon of Leetonia discussed his ambulance service and said he would station an ambulance in Lisbon if he could get someone to operate it on a 24-hour basis.

Council members reported complaints they had received of his service in this vicinity. Council said firemen will continue to answer emergency calls from any doctor.

Elmer Donneley of the water department, along with two representatives from the Metropolitan Insurance agency, Leo Lawrence and Jack C. Chapman of East Liverpool, discussed hospitalization insurance for village employes.

Council said its committee, composed of Paul Kuhns, member of the Board of Public Affairs; Clyde B. Pike, president of Council; Donnelly and Richard Roberts, street commissioners, will recommend an insurance plan.

Mayor Stockman said he had contacted Gaylord Zellers, county supervisor of the State Highway Department in Leetonia, who authorized the village to place signs on Routes 45 and 30 south, warning motorists of curves inside the village limits.

The mayor said Charles Snyder, county engineer, recommended that the street committee contact county commissioners in regards to replacing the S. Market St. bridge over Beaver Creek. He also reported he conferred with the owner of the laundrymat at Washington and S. Jefferson Sts., who will advise the mayor if he wishes to have meters placed in front of the business for customers parking.

The East Ohio Gas Co. will repair the alley between Washington and Maple Sts. Council had complained that the utility opened it but the excavation has now settled.

Ray Hempstead, clerk, gave a report on the Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool for last season. A breakdown shows:

Income — tickets $3,020.23; general fund appropriation, $1,200; miscellaneous receipts, $18.42, and a 1961 balance of $50.79, for a total of $4,238.65.

Expenditures — wages, $2,017.32; insurance, $287; electricity, $680.51; supplies, $606.33; repairs, $513.45; gas, $54.11; miscellaneous $17.28, for a total of $4,176, leaving a balance of $62.65 plus $50.79 for a total of $113.44 in the pool fund as of 1962.

Bills of $6,487.40 were read and ordered paid.

Next meeting is Feb. 5 at 7:30 p. m.

Of that amount, $1,760,000 goes to county treasurers for use on the various county highways, $530,800 going to maintenance and improvement of township highways. Each county shared to the extent of $20,000, while each of the 4,327 townships received $400.

New Teaching Tool Used At Ohio State

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — Ohio State University put a new teaching tool to use for the first time today. It is a "swimming pool" type of nuclear reactor purchased under a $217,000 Atomic Energy Commission grant.

Ten graduate students in the university's nuclear reactor laboratory course in physics plan to begin experiments with the new device immediately. It uses uranium-235 for fuel, supplied by the AEC.

Device Installed To Cut Mishaps On Slick Bridges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway department has announced installation of a device to reduce accidents on slippery bridges at six locations.

One is on the Ohio 16 viaduct three miles east of the Franklin County line in Licking County, a spot that has a four-year record of high accident frequency during the ice and snow season. New signs light only when the bridge is slippery and are operated electronically. Complete installation at each spot cost about $2,000.

Other sites where the device is being installed are the Sandusky Bay Bridge on Ohio 2 in Ottawa County; the Beulah Beach Bridge over Chappel Creek on Ohio 6 in Erie County; Olentangy Bridge on U.S. 23 in Delaware County; Twin Bridges over Grand River, west of Madison Village on Interstate 90 in Lake County, and Foster Viaduct over Little Caesar River on U.S. 22 in Warren County.

Truck Firm Appeals To Ohio High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A trucking firm has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from a $50,000 award to Mrs. Alice L. Pitz for injuries received in a Canal Fulton traffic accident.

The widow was 70 years old when allegedly crippled Dec. 15, 1955, in the collision of the car she was in and a disabled truck of Motor Freight, Inc.

The first trial in 1959 resulted in a common pleas court verdict for the trucking firm, but an appellate court ordered a new trial. At the second trial last January, a jury awarded Mrs. Pitz $62,500. An appellate court cut the amount to $50,000 and the company appealed to the high court.

Columbiana Mothers Set 'March' Thursday

COLUMBIANA — The annual Mothers March on Polio will be held Thursday night to raise funds for the March of Dimes, Richard G. Brian, county campaign chairman, announced today.

The Newcomers Club will make the door-to-door canvass. James McGill is village chairman of the fund appeal, which opened throughout the nation on Jan. 1 to raise money for care of polio victims and research into the causes of arthritis, rheumatism and birth defects.

Chairman, 3 Others Resign Posts In ASE

NEW YORK (AP) — Chairman Joseph F. Reilly and three other top officers of the troubled American Stock Exchange have resigned.

Their action Monday virtually erased the higher element of an administration that has been under fire from the Securities and Exchange Commission and some exchange members.

Quitting with Reilly, who also was acting as president pro-tem, were Vice Chairman Charles J. Bocklet, James R. Dyer, a member of the Board of Governors and chairman of the Committee on Finance, and John J. Mann, a governor and chairman of the Committee on Floor Transactions.

This statement was part of an SEC report in which it said the exchange had allowed "manifold and prolonged abuses" of trading rules.

Reilly, 54, had been serving as president pro tem since the resignation last Dec. 11 of Edward T. McCormick as president. He has been an exchange member 31 years, a governor since 1951 and was completing his second term as chairman.

Reilly and the three other officers made no comment about their resignations.

Immediately upon accepting the resignations, the Board of Governors named Edwin Posner, a partner in the New York City brokerage and specialist firm, Andrews, Posner and Rothschild, as president pro-tem.

The SEC investigation of the exchange began after a scandal broke last May involving a father-and-son team of specialists, Jerry and Gerard Re, who were suspended from the exchange and later arrested in connection with alleged stock manipulations.

Parents Will Get Quiz On Need Of New High School

Letters seeking more opinions on the future of the high school will be sent this week to parents of some 3,000 elementary pupils, Supt. Ralph W. Betts said today.

Cards will accompany the letters which each pupil will be asked to take home. They can be returned to the school, Betts said.

The letter explains the major problem facing the Board of Education concerning what to do with the high school plant. The problem is whether to build a completely new plant in a new location or replace Central with a new laboratory building and continue to use the main high school and Memorial Auditorium, Betts explains.

Similar letters were sent to parents of high school students about two weeks ago. Some 200 cards already have been returned and others still are being received.

A survey showed those who had returned the cards "heavily favor" an entire new high school in a new location, Betts said.

U.S. Planning Some Sea-Going Command Posts

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department plans to add several sea-going command posts to its system of alternate military headquarters for use if a nuclear attack wipes out the Pentagon.

Several alternate headquarters have been set up. They include the underground "Little Pentagon" in the mountains on the Maryland-Pennsylvania border and the Navy cruiser-command ship Northampton.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara asked funds in the new military budget to convert at least two mothballed light carriers. He says that for the next few years "we have tentatively programmed the construction of one new command ship in each year."

The addition of sea-roaming alternate headquarters is a part of the new emphasis on the system of command and control of forces in time of attack.

The command and control system involves the constant linkage by radio and other communication systems of bomber and missile forces, Navy ships and troops with operational and top administrative headquarters.

The Blonde Who's About To Enter Your Life

You will have no say in the matter. A blonde is about to enter your life.

Small. Brown eyes that give you the feeling an electrical storm is gathering. A musical voice. And the name is Peggy McCay.

How could she fail to enter your life (at least for an evening) when she has been given, by fiat of ABC-TV, a whole half hour of your prime evening time, starting next Saturday?

Her show, "Room for One More," a situation comedy about a couple given to having and adopting small children, is based on a book and a Cary Grant movie of the same name, and may or may not be worth your time.

I'VE HASTENED through these amenities in order to get back to Miss McCay. At lunch the other day, she gave me an earful about acting, soap operas, child stars and movie dogs.

Her stamina is just this side of one-stop. Her gestures — she's an Actors Studio alumna — are expressive, like a basketball referee's. And if the anecdote at hand requires standing up, Peggy McCay will oblige.

Miss McCay on TV husbands and wives:

"You know, I watch all those other domestic comedies. And all the husbands and wives, poor things, they're so cool and antiseptic.

"On our show, Andy Duggan and I are at least human. We do evil things like drink martinis.

"OF COURSE, we can't go too far. In one episode, where I'm pooped out and plop down on the couch with him and put my feet up on his lap, I did the natural thing — I kicked off my shoes. And as we talked, he, you know, sort of massaged my feet.

"And they wanted to take it out. They were afraid of foot fetishes, of all things! But we won and the feet stayed.

"However, they took out the line Andy threw in which was 'Honey, have you counted your toes lately?' Thought it might offent somebody with a lot of toes."

ABOUT CHILD actors:

"The kids on the program are wonderful. They have that extra sense, you know. When a line sounds wrong, they turn it around and make it sound right.

"And they grow! Timmy Rooney, who's Mickey Rooney's boy, has grown 7 inches since we began shooting the show. And all those viewers will just think I'm getting smaller!"

ABOUT DOG actors:

"Well, the dog caste system out there is worse than the human caste system. The star dog pulls up in a white Cadillac; his standin arrives in a beat-up station wagon.

"You play a scene with a dog, with the trainer yak-yakking his commands, and Bowser ruins every take; you finally get the scene fine on the 50th take, and then the trainer says, 'Naw, won't do. His ear was folded.'

"They don't care which is YOUR good profile, they want the dog's good profile.

"And then, to get the dog to kiss you, they rub sausage meat over your ear. I was complaining about this to Sir Cedric Hardwicke, and Sir Cedric pooh-poohed it all. In one picture, he said, he had to put liver pate in his nose."

ON SOAP operas:

"For three years and for more than 1,000 installments, I played Vanessa, the tragedy-beset heroine in the television serial, 'Love of Life.' I memorized every day's 15-minute script without a hitch, without a fluff for 400 shows. They called me the Rock of Gibraltar.

"Then one afternoon I found myself sitting at a desk, without knowing what I was doing there, and a man was talking to me, and then I saw the television camera and realized I was on TV. A complete blackout.

"Then I heard the cue and I saw the typewritten script in my mind and all those parentheses. Vanessa trembles: that's a parenthesis. Vanessa valiantly brushes away a tear: that's a parenthesis.

"Somehow, I went through the thing just working the parentheses. I couldn't see what was in between. I saw the kinescope later. Very strange. Very slow and spooky."

Right now? Well, there is nothing strange or slow or spooky about this girl at all. And if she'll just rub a little sausage meat on her ear .....

Emergency Phone Shift Set At Lisbon

Mayor Dean Stockman was instructed to contact the Ohio Bell Telephone Co. to arrange for the transfer. The sheriff is discontinuing the service because of the county budget cut. The sheriff's office has handled the emergency calls for three years. The fee for the village at the new location, on W. Lincoln Way, will be $4 monthly. The hookup will permit sounding of the fire siren, which is on the jail building.

James Calon of Leetonia discussed his ambulance service and said he would station an ambulance in Lisbon if he could get someone to operate it on a 24-hour basis.

Council members reported complaints they had received of his service in this vicinity. Council said firemen will continue to answer emergency calls from any doctor.

Elmer Donneley of the water department, along with two representatives from the Metropolitan Insurance agency, Leo Lawrence and Jack C. Chapman of East Liverpool, discussed hospitalization insurance for village employes.

Council said its committee, composed of Paul Kuhns, member of the Board of Public Affairs; Clyde B. Pike, president of Council; Donnelly and Richard Roberts, street commissioners, will recommend an insurance plan.

Mayor Stockman said he had contacted Gaylord Zellers, county supervisor of the State Highway Department in Leetonia, who authorized the village to place signs on Routes 45 and 30 south, warning motorists of curves inside the village limits.

The mayor said Charles Snyder, county engineer, recommended that the street committee contact county commissioners in regards to replacing the S. Market St. bridge over Beaver Creek. He also reported he conferred with the owner of the laundrymat at Washington and S. Jefferson Sts., who will advise the mayor if he wishes to have meters placed in front of the business for customers parking.

The East Ohio Gas Co. will repair the alley between Washington and Maple Sts. Council had complained that the utility opened it but the excavation has now settled.

Ray Hempstead, clerk, gave a report on the Sadie VanFossan Memorial Swimming Pool for last season. A breakdown shows:

Income — tickets $3,020.23; general fund appropriation, $1,200; miscellaneous receipts, $18.42, and a 1961 balance of $50.79, for a total of $4,238.65.

Expenditures — wages, $2,017.32; insurance, $287; electricity, $680.51; supplies, $606.33; repairs, $513.45; gas, $54.11; miscellaneous $17.28, for a total of $4,176, leaving a balance of $62.65 plus $50.79 for a total of $113.44 in the pool fund as of 1962.

Bills of $6,487.40 were read and ordered paid.

Next meeting is Feb. 5 at 7:30 p. m.

Device Installed To Cut Mishaps On Slick Bridges

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — The state highway department has announced installation of a device to reduce accidents on slippery bridges at six locations.

One is on the Ohio 16 viaduct three miles east of the Franklin County line in Licking County, a spot that has a four-year record of high accident frequency during the ice and snow season. New signs light only when the bridge is slippery and are operated electronically. Complete installation at each spot cost about $2,000.

Other sites where the device is being installed are the Sandusky Bay Bridge on Ohio 2 in Ottawa County; the Beulah Beach Bridge over Chappel Creek on Ohio 6 in Erie County; Olentangy Bridge on U.S. 23 in Delaware County; Twin Bridges over Grand River, west of Madison Village on Interstate 90 in Lake County, and Foster Viaduct over Little Caesar River on U.S. 22 in Warren County.

Truck Firm Appeals To Ohio High Court

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP) — A trucking firm has appealed to the Ohio Supreme Court from a $50,000 award to Mrs. Alice L. Pitz for injuries received in a Canal Fulton traffic accident.

The widow was 70 years old when allegedly crippled Dec. 15, 1955, in the collision of the car she was in and a disabled truck of Motor Freight, Inc.

The first trial in 1959 resulted in a common pleas court verdict for the trucking firm, but an appellate court ordered a new trial. At the second trial last January, a jury awarded Mrs. Pitz $62,500. An appellate court cut the amount to $50,000 and the company appealed to the high court.

Columbiana Mothers Set 'March' Thursday

COLUMBIANA — The annual Mothers March on Polio will be held Thursday night to raise funds for the March of Dimes, Richard G. Brian, county campaign chairman, announced today.

The Newcomers Club will make the door-to-door canvass. James McGill is village chairman of the fund appeal, which opened throughout the nation on Jan. 1 to raise money for care of polio victims and research into the causes of arthritis, rheumatism and birth defects.

Chairman, 3 Others Resign Posts In ASE

NEW YORK (AP) — Chairman Joseph F. Reilly and three other top officers of the troubled American Stock Exchange have resigned.

Their action Monday virtually erased the higher element of an administration that has been under fire from the Securities and Exchange Commission and some exchange members.

Quitting with Reilly, who also was acting as president pro-tem, were Vice Chairman Charles J. Bocklet, James R. Dyer, a member of the Board of Governors and chairman of the Committee on Finance, and John J. Mann, a governor and chairman of the Committee on Floor Transactions.

The SEC had accused the four of dominating the administration of the nation's No. 2 securities market for the last 10 years.

This statement was part of an SEC report in which it said the exchange had allowed "manifold and prolonged abuses" of trading rules.

Reilly, 54, had been serving as president pro tem since the resignation last Dec. 11 of Edward T. McCormick as president. He has been an exchange member 31 years, a governor since 1951 and was completing his second term as chairman.

Reilly and the three other officers made no comment about their resignations.

Immediately upon accepting the resignations, the Board of Governors named Edwin Posner, a partner in the New York City brokerage and specialist firm, Andrews, Posner and Rothschild, as president pro-tem.

Posner, 71, a former chairman, is a leader in a reform movement within the exchange.

The SEC investigation of the exchange began after a scandal broke last May involving a father-and-son team of specialists, Jerry and Gerard Re, who were suspended from the exchange and later arrested in connection with alleged stock manipulations.

Parents Will Get Quiz On Need Of New High School

Letters seeking more opinions on the future of the high school will be sent this week to parents of some 3,000 elementary pupils, Supt. Ralph W. Betts said today.

Cards will accompany the letters which each pupil will be asked to take home. They can be returned to the school, Betts said.

The letter explains the major problem facing the Board of Education concerning what to do with the high school plant. The problem is whether to build a completely new plant in a new location or replace Central with a new laboratory building and continue to use the main high school and Memorial Auditorium, Betts explains.

Similar letters were sent to parents of high school students about two weeks ago. Some 200 cards already have been returned and others still are being received.

A survey showed those who had returned the cards "heavily favor" an entire new high school in a new location, Betts said.

U.S. Planning Some Sea-Going Command Posts

By ELTON C. FAY
AP Military Affairs Writer

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Defense Department plans to add several sea-going command posts to its system of alternate military headquarters for use if a nuclear attack wipes out the Pentagon.

Several alternate headquarters have been set up. They include the underground "Little Pentagon" in the mountains on the Maryland-Pennsylvania border and the Navy cruiser-command ship Northampton.

Secretary of Defense Robert S. McNamara asked funds in the new military budget to convert at least two mothballed light carriers. He says that for the next few years "we have tentatively programmed the construction of one new command ship in each year."

The addition of sea-roaming alternate headquarters is a part of the new emphasis on the system of command and control of forces in time of attack.

The command and control system involves the constant linkage by radio and other communication systems of bomber and missile forces, Navy ships and troops with operational and top administrative headquarters.

John Clovis, band director, announced the annual spring band concert will be held March 16, and the solo and ensemble contest March 31 at West Liberty State College.

He said the high school choir will sing for the Hancock County teachers workshop Feb. 1 at Chester.

Lunch was served nine by Mrs. Hobart Bowlby and Mrs. Herbert Greenlee. Mrs. Herman Wilson, president, was in charge. Next meeting is Feb. 26.

Ford Wins Title In Sudden Death From Campbell

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Veteran Doug Ford, 39, checked the rush of golf's oncharging youth brigade as he captured the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament title in a sudden death playoff after whipping miserable cold weather en route to his crown.

The former Masters and PGA champion from Vernon Hills, N.Y. went 71 holes before he finally caught collegiate champion Joe Campbell Monday in the snow-delayed finals.

They finished the 72 holes all even at 286 and went on to the first extra hole. If Campbell had won, it would have continued the youth dominance for 1962 that started when Phil Rodgers won the Los Angels Open and Tommy Jacobs followed with a triumph at San Diego.

Neither Ford nor Campbell hit the green on the 385-yard, par-four hole. The ex-Purdue athlete from Pendleton, Ind., who had led from the opening day, was in the fringe at the front edge of the green. He tried a putter and left his ball six feet from the cup.

Ford's second shot hit a grassy embankment, bounced off a woman spectator's leg and into a trap. He wedged out of the trap within five feet of the hole. Campbell missed his putt, and Doug calmly tapped a perfection downhill stroke with a four-inch break. When it dropped, Ford had $5,300.

"I was doing so poorly that I didn't think it paid me to come out here," Ford said. "I didn't make the cut in Los Angeles and didn't make a dime in San Diego."

In addition to his first prize as low pro, Ford collected $1,000 for a fourth-place finish with partner Dudley Wysong of McKinney, Tex., in the pro-amateur. It was the first Crosby for Wysong, who went to the finals in the 1961 National Amateur before losing to Jack Nicklaus over the same Pebble Beach course.

Rodgers finished third here with a 228, two strokes off the pace. Both he and Ford carded two-over par 74s. Campbell had a 76 and, after the playoff, a check for $3,400.

Fight Results

Hull, Que.—Bob Cleroux, 207, Montreal, knocked out Cecil Gray, 190¼, Halifax, 3 (for Canadian heavyweight championship). Burke Emery, 164½, Sherbrooke, Que., stopped Jimmy White, 170, Athens, Ga., 7, and Gale Kerwin, Canada, knocked out Buddy King, Charlotte, N.C., 2.

Paris — Douglas Vaillant, 137, Cuba, outpointed Fernand Nollet, 135, France, 10.

Lucas Limits Terry To Nine Points, Gets 32 Himself In 91-65 Victory

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The shooting and rebounding skills of Ohio State's Jerry Lucas have been taken for granted but there has been a tendency to underestimate his defensive ability.

The Buckeyes' 6-foot-8 tower of talent displayed his guarding prowess Monday night by holding Terry Dischinger of Purdue, the Big Ten's top scorer for two seasons, to nine points in a duel of All-Americas.

Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, easily disposed of the Boilermakers 91-65 for its 14th straight victory this season. The Buckeyes' triumph also was their 29th in a row at home. Their last setback in Columbus was inflicted by Purdue in 1959.

Lucas completely dominated the 6-foot-7 Dischinger, who had held the upper hand in their two previous meetings. Lucas tallied 32 points and snared 25 rebounds. Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, played with an injured finger on his shooting hand.

Action was light on the basketball front Monday night with most of the schools busy with examinations. In other games involving major teams, Maryland edged Miami (Fla.) 71-68, Michigan State whipped Minnesota 84-79, Stanford turned back Washington State 67-51 and East Tennessee State downed Murray (Ky.) 91-72.

Dischinger's nine points tied his career low. He also missed his first free throw attempt to snap his string of 29.

Maryland squandered a 17-point lead but rallied in the closing minutes to carry the verdict over Miami on the losers' floor. With three minutes to play and Maryland trailing, Scott Ferguson came off the bench and scored two baskets to give the Terps a 66-64 advantage.

Michigan State withstood a second-half surge by Minnesota in posting a home floor victory and second Big Ten success in six outings.

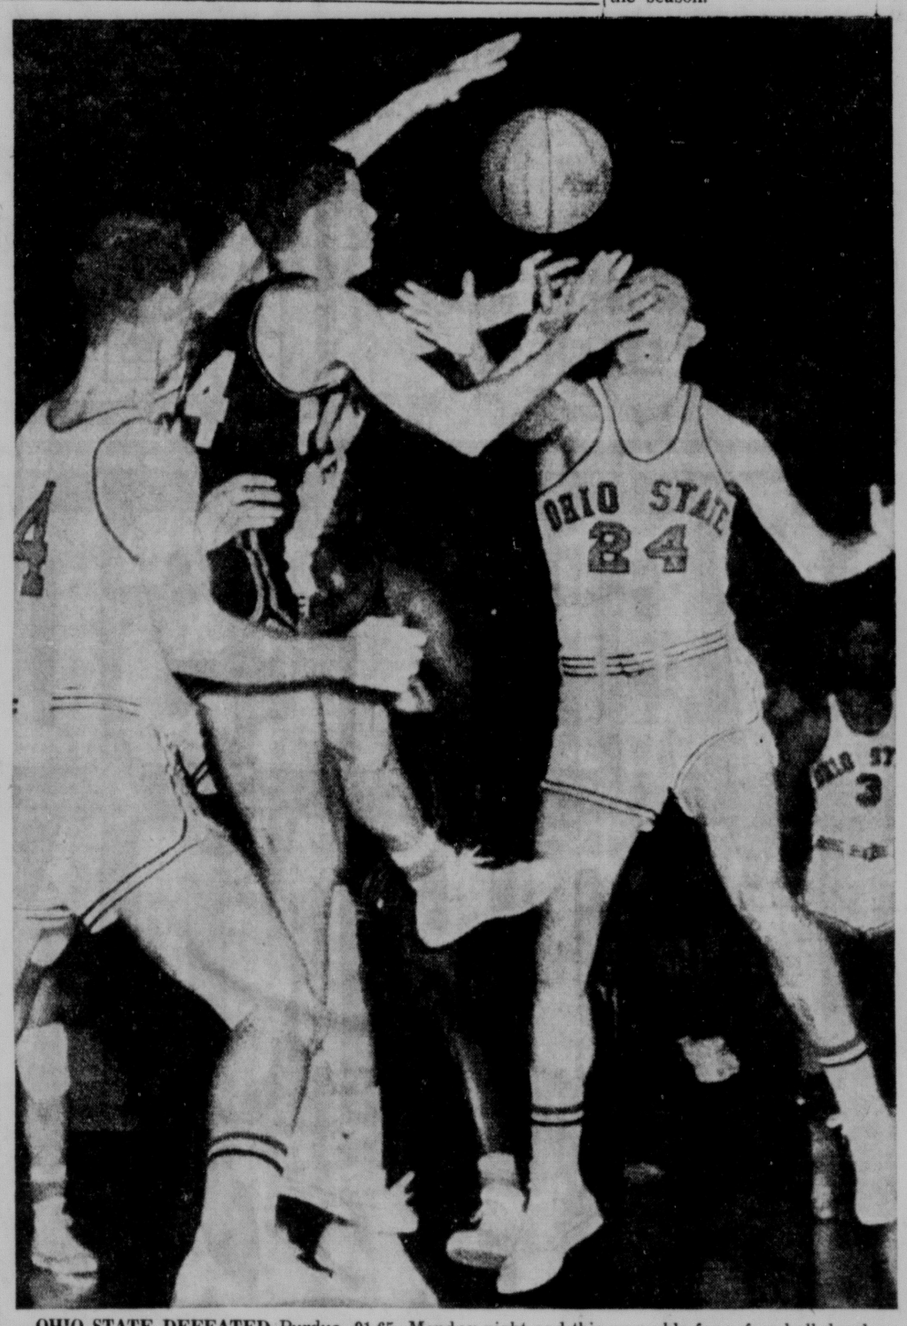

Only one other game was on the Ohio cage card Monday night. In that one, Youngstown came from behind to defeat Baldwin-Wallace 61-52.

The score was tied 44-44 with eight minutes left when Youngstown freshman Ron Allen tipped in a basket and the Penguins led the rest of the way.

The victory was Youngstown's 9th in 14 games. B-W is 6-8 for the season.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Taft in Class AA, and Ayersville's defending Class A champions, held their leads today in the weekly Associated Press poll of high school basketball teams.

Taft, a 13-point leader over Cleveland East Tech last week on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis by the state's sports editors, upped its edge to 54 today. Ayersville, given 258 points last week, jumped to 293 this time. Fostoria St. Wendelin held second with 172 — an enormous leap from last week's 126.

Middletown, Sandusky and Toledo Macomber were beaten in last week's round and fell from the elite list. Newcomers Findlay, Canton Lincoln and Akron Central took over the last three spots.

Middletown is in a rut, all its three losses being to neighboring Hamilton teams. Top-ranked Taft toppled the Middies twice, and last week Hamilton Garfield upset Paul Walker's boys 80-66 after losing 96-59 to the Middies in the first round.

Canton Lincoln has won 10 straight after an opening 59-57 loss to Dayton Roosevelt and is now ninth in the rankings. Urbana ran its string to 12 by beating Delaware 53-41 and then surprising everyone with a 68-42 triumph over Springfield South's two-time state champs.

Seven Mile, Dixie, Butler and Portsmouth East suffered their first defeats last week. For the Portsmouth team it was the first regular season loss in 27 games over a three-season span.

All-Ohio Don Spires of unbeaten Stanton Local in Jefferson County, who sells peanuts and orange drinks at the Pittsburgh Pirate home games during the summer, broke the school record with a 41-point spree in the 92-46 win over Newell, W. Va. He's averaging 25 for the campaign.

Dover St. Joe, which won its first 16 games last season, has 13 in a row for the current campaign, with 5-foot-8 Tom Young leading the way with a 23.2 average.

The toast of Steubenville is David (Smokey) Brown. The 6-foot Big Red junior stole the ball and drove for the winning basket in the final second to beat arch rival Martins Ferry 60-58 Friday night.

Some of last week's top point getters were Berke Reichenbach, Euclid, 43; Charley Howse, Cleveland Glenville, 37, and teammate George Phillips, 34; Ron Fugo, Lakewood, 32; Dennis Papp, Fairview, 32; Boyd Purcell, South Central, 30, and Dan Schwan, Buckeye Central, 31, with 13 of 14 free throws.

Some Changes Made . . .

At this time of the basketball season, almost the halfway point, most coaches are set on their lineups and have only to sit back and watch their cagers at work. However, that is not the situation facing Coach Jim Harris.

Late Monday afternoon at Memorial Auditorium the Potter coach began from scratch again, and, in his words, "it's like starting the season all over again."

There is no doubt there will be some changes made when the Potters take the MA court Friday night against New Philadelphia.

The shabby play of the low-scoring Potters has given Harris no alternative but to seek out some new faces for the starting five.

As to the five boys, Harris isn't sure, but every position is up for grabs.

One change is almost certain. Harris says he plans to move Dean Cline, a junior, to an inside spot in the Potter offense. Cline has been an outside man in the last eight games.

This will mean that either Dave Harriel or Ed Prentice, the Potters "inside men", will be benched unless their play in practice improves. The Potters have been sorely lacking for an inside scoring punch.

19 Points At Halftime . . .

AT STEUBENVILLE Central Friday night, they had only 19 points at halftime and ended up shooting only 26 per cent.

The shooting of Jack Deshler hasn't been up to par and the Potters had been depending more on his scoring from outside.

Looking down the bench, Harris might use Tom Kraft, an agressive junior, who seems to be the only Potter cager with any leadership ability.

Kraft is the leading scorer of the reserve team, but his 5-foot-7 size is against him. He is a consistent shot from the outside and gives 100 per cent effort when he is in a contest.

Gary "Huck" Steffen has flashed hot and cold performances for the Blue and White, but his defensive work has been helpful.

The Potters have a tough weekend coming up, with New Philly Friday and a strong Canton McKinley squad invading the MA Saturday in a Big 8 Conference game.

Injury Slows Ex-Potter Wrestler . . .

TWO YEARS ago a blond-haired kid came out for wrestling at East Liverpool High School. The odd part about it was that he waited until his senior year to try the mat sport.

His name was Don Seibert. When the wrestling team was honored at a banquet at the end of the 1959-60 season, a "Rookie-Of-The-Year" trophy was presented. The winner was Seibert.

The manner in which he improved in the space of one year's association with the sport was amazing, but he didn't give up wrestling after graduation from high school.

He enrolled at Ohio University and immediately piled up an undefeated record as a freshman. A sophomore now at the Athens school, Seibert was unbeatable in varsity competition in five straight matches up until last week. Then bad luck came in bunches.

Seibert lost his first varsity match at Western Michigan and at the same time suffered a collarbone injury. The injury will sideline Seibert for several weeks.

His proudest victory in his first season of varsity wrestling came when he won the 137-pound title in a quadrangular meet at Ohio U.

Don is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Kenny Seibert, 701 Bradshaw Ave.

This 'N That In Sports . . .

CHESTER'S all-stater of a few years ago, Dave Brookes, came up with his best scoring performance of the season for Malone College by tallying 21 points in a losing 76-61 cause to Clairon.

Ford Wins Title In Sudden Death From Campbell

By JACK STEVENSON
Associated Press Sports Writer

PEBBLE BEACH, Calif. (AP) —Veteran Doug Ford, 39, checked the rush of golf's oncharging youth brigade as he captured the $50,000 Bing Crosby Golf Tournament title in a sudden death playoff after whipping miserable cold weather en route to his crown.

The former Masters and PGA champion from Vernon Hills, N.Y. went 71 holes before he finally caught collegiate champion Joe Campbell Monday in the snow-delayed finals.

They finished the 72 holes all even at 286 and went on to the first extra hole. If Campbell had won, it would have continued the youth dominance for 1962 that started when Phil Rodgers won the Los Angels Open and Tommy Jacobs followed with a triumph at San Diego.

Neither Ford nor Campbell hit the green on the 385-yard, par-four hole. The ex-Purdue athlete from Pendleton, Ind., who had led from the opening day, was in the fringe at the front edge of the green. He tried a putter and left his ball six feet from the cup.

Ford's second shot hit a grassy embankment, bounced off a woman spectator's leg and into a trap. He wedged out of the trap within five feet of the hole. Campbell missed his putt, and Doug calmly tapped a perfection downhill stroke with a four-inch break. When it dropped, Ford had $5,300.

"I was doing so poorly that I didn't think it paid me to come out here," Ford said. "I didn't make the cut in Los Angeles and didn't make a dime in San Diego."

In addition to his first prize as low pro, Ford collected $1,000 for a fourth-place finish with partner Dudley Wysong of McKinney, Tex., in the pro-amateur. It was the first Crosby for Wysong, who went to the finals in the 1961 National Amateur before losing to Jack Nicklaus over the same Pebble Beach course.

Nicklaus, now a pro, won money for his third straight tourney, collecting $450 for a 76—296.

Rodgers finished third here with a 228, two strokes off the pace. Both he and Ford carded two-over par 74s. Campbell had a 76 and, after the playoff, a check for $3,400.

Stanton Five Retains 4th Poll Position

Lucas Limits Terry To Nine Points, Gets 32 Himself In 91-65 Victory

By SHELDON SAKOWITZ
Associated Press Sports Writer

The shooting and rebounding skills of Ohio State's Jerry Lucas have been taken for granted but there has been a tendency to underestimate his defensive ability.

The Buckeyes' 6-foot-8 tower of talent displayed his guarding prowess Monday night by holding Terry Dischinger of Purdue, the Big Ten's top scorer for two seasons, to nine points in a duel of All-Americas.

Lucas got a big assist from the Bucks' defensive ace, John Havlicek, who teamed with "Big Luke" to throw a tight net over the Boilmaker star.

Ohio State, the nation's top-ranked college basketball team, easily disposed of the Boilermakers 91-65 for its 14th straight victory this season. The Buckeyes' triumph also was their 29th in a row at home. Their last setback in Columbus was inflicted by Purdue in 1959.

Lucas completely dominated the 6-foot-7 Dischinger, who had held the upper hand in their two previous meetings. Lucas tallied 32 points and snared 25 rebounds. Dischinger, the Big Ten's leading scorer, played with an injured finger on his shooting hand.

Action was light on the basketball front Monday night with most of the schools busy with examinations. In other games involving major teams, Maryland edged Miami (Fla.) 71-68, Michigan State whipped Minnesota 84-79, Stanford turned back Washington State 67-51 and East Tennessee State downed Murray (Ky.) 91-72.

Dischinger's nine points tied his career low. He also missed his first free throw attempt to snap his string of 29.

Maryland squandered a 17-point lead but rallied in the closing minutes to carry the verdict over Miami on the losers' floor. With three minutes to play and Maryland trailing, Scott Ferguson came off the bench and scored two baskets to give the Terps a 66-64 advantage.

Michigan State withstood a second-half surge by Minnesota in posting a home floor victory and second Big Ten success in six outings.

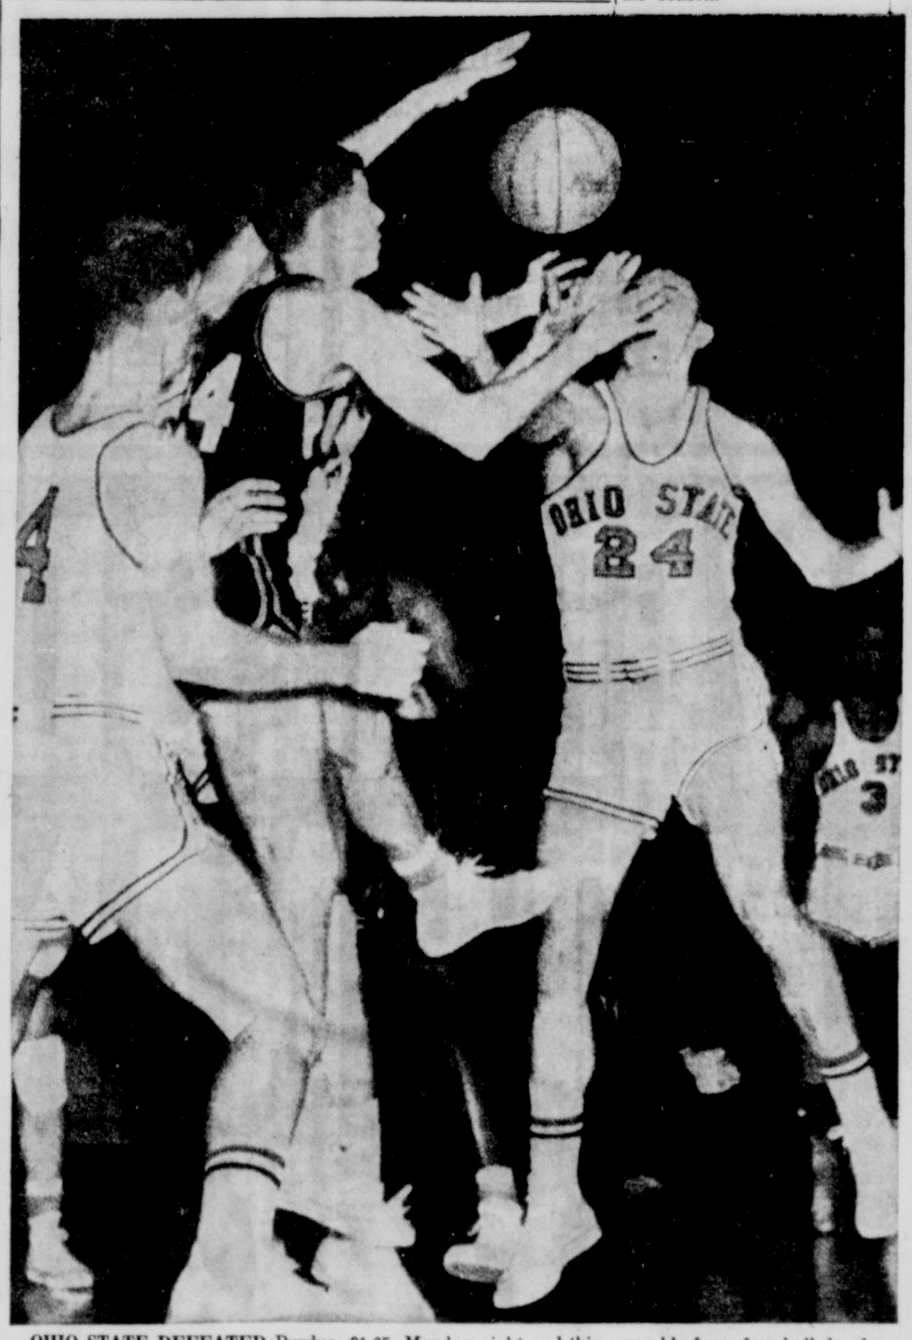

Only one other game was on the Ohio cage card Monday night. In that one, Youngstown came from behind to defeat Baldwin-Wallace 61-52.

The score was tied 44-44 with eight minutes left when Youngstown freshman Ron Allen tipped in a basket and the Penguins led the rest of the way.

The victory was Youngstown's 9th in 14 games. B-W is 6-8 for the season.

COLUMBUS, Ohio (AP)—Hamilton Taft in Class AA, and Ayersville's defending Class A champions, held their leads today in the weekly Associated Press poll of high school basketball teams.

Taft, a 13-point leader over Cleveland East Tech last week on the 10-9-8-etc. voting basis by the state's sports editors, upped its edge to 54 today. Ayersville, given 258 points last week, jumped to 293 this time. Fostoria St. Wendelin held second with 172 — an enormous leap from last week's 126.

Middletown, Sandusky and Toledo Macomber were beaten in last week's round and fell from the elite list. Newcomers Findlay, Canton Lincoln and Akron Central took over the last three spots.

From here and there:

Middletown is in a rut, all its three losses being to neighboring Hamilton teams. Top-ranked Taft toppled the Middies twice, and last week Hamilton Garfield upset Paul Walker's boys 80-66 after losing 96-59 to the Middies in the first round.

Canton Lincoln has won 10 straight after an opening 59-57 loss to Dayton Roosevelt and is now ninth in the rankings. Urbana ran its string to 12 by beating Delaware 53-41 and then surprising everyone with a 68-42 triumph over Springfield South's two-time state champs.

Seven Mile, Dixie, Butler and Portsmouth East suffered their first defeats last week. For the Portsmouth team it was the first regular season loss in 27 games over a three-season span.

Gambler Charged In Try To Fix Two NCAA Games

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The Wake County grand jury returned a true bill Monday charging Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal of Miami, Fla., and Chicago, with offering to bribe a basketball player to shave points.

Charged along with Rosenthal was David Budin, 28-year-old New Yorker who already is under indictment on charges of conspiring to bribe North Carolina State College players.

Each of the two was charged with two counts of conspiracy to offer to bribe and two counts of bribery.

The indictment said Rosenthal offered $500 to Ray Paprocky, New York University player, to affect the outcome of NYU's game with West Virginia in the 1960 NCAA regionals in Charlotte.

Solicitor Lester Chalmers said West Virginia had been favored to win by five points and NYU won the game 82-81.

The indictment did not specify whether Paprocky received the bribe money.

The indictment charged also that on the same day as the NYU-West Virginia game, March 11, 1960, Rosenthal approached Paprocky on the matter of shaving points in a game to be played a week later between NYU and Ohio State in NCAA semifinals at San Francisco.

Rosenthal's bond was fixed at $50,000. Chalmers said he was believed to be in Miami and would be picked up by police in a few days.

Budin is being detained in New York and no bond was set.

Jenson And Antonelli Announce Retirements

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jackie Jensen, Boston's RBI rapper and American League Most Valuable Player in 1958, and Johnny Antonelli, one of baseball's first bonus babies, have announced their retirements after major league careers spanning more than a decade.

Jensen's second and apparently final retirement was announced Monday by the Red Sox in Boston, where Vice President Dick O'Connell said, "We knew about this in December but were afriad to announce it then. We were afraid Jensen might change his mind and make liars out of us."

Antonelli, 31, recently acquired by the New York Mets, said at his home in Rochester, N.Y., "I've been thinking of this for a long time and I've made up my mind. The Mets asked me if I would reconsider if they offered me a better contract than the one sent me, but I told them nothing would change my mind."

"I'm tired of traveling," said the pitcher who was paid $52,000 by the then Boston Braves in 1948 when he was only 18, "and I want to be home with my family." Antonelli's wife, Rosemarie, is expecting their fourth child in a few weeks.

Jensen returned to the Red Sox last season and hit .263 with 13 home runs and 66 runs batted in after sitting out the 1960 season.

Jensen, 35, compiled a .279 lifetime batting average in 11 years in the majors, with 199 home runs and 929 RBI. In 1954 and 1955 and from 1957 to 1959 Jensen drove in more than 100 runs and formed a potent 1-2 punch for the Red Sox with Ted Williams.

Jensen, who came to the Red Sox from Washington in 1953 after beginning his career with the New York Yankees, reached the peak of his career in 1958 when he was selected the league's MVP after hitting .286 and rapping 35 home runs, with 122 runs driven in.

Antonelli never made it big with the Braves but blossomed into one of the majors' top winners when he was traded to the then New York Giants after the 1953 season. He had his best year in 1954 with a 21-7 record as the Giants won the National League pennant.

Anty also won 20 in 1956 when he was 20-13 in New York and won 19 in 1959 when the Giants had moved to San Francisco. He was traded to Cleveland after the 1960 season, was released by the Indians and picked up by the Braves, who sold him to the Mets.

Air Force's New Enlistment Plans Will Aid Recruits

T-Sgt. James A. Lee, area Air Force recruiter in the City Hall, announced today that the Air Force has taken the lid off enlistments.

A special Air Force entrance test will be held at the recruiter's office Thursday at 10 a. m. Further details may be obtained by calling him at FU. 6-4502.

He announced that an increase in the number of men and women who may enlist in the Air Force was put into effect by Headquarters, USAF Recruiting Service. For the first time in 18 months, applicants now may qualify, apply and enlist almost immediately.

With the current emphasis on aerospace, most of the 250 Air Force schools throughout the country have vacancies, he said.

For persons who have served recently in the Air Force or any other service current regulations permit enlistment with more than one dependent.

It is one of the many changes in the prior service program. In addition, for the first time in the history of the Air Force, ranks from airman third class through master Sergeant are offered prior servicemen who meet immediate needs.

Nevada Supreme Court Rules Ohioan Can Be Freed On Bail

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—The Newark, Ohio, man who has been sitting in a Las Vegas jail since Dec. 12 of last year on an indefinite hold can be freed on bail, the state Supreme Court ruled Monday.

The court ruled Robert Byington Jr. must post $2,000 with the Supreme Court and appear Feb. 22 in Carson City on his hearing for a writ of habeas corpus.

Dist. Judge David Zenoff ordered Byington jailed for contempt of court until he producd his two oldest children in the Clark County court.

Byington came to Las Vegas in May to bring home his three children who were with his estranged wife, Patricia. He returned to Newark with his 8 and 6-year-old daughters. In November of last year he came West again to bring back the youngest child but was stopped by sheriff's deputies.

The Supreme Court Monday ordered Clark County Sheriff Ralph Lamb to appear on Feb. 22 to show cause why Byington should not be granted the writ.

The second application for a writ of habeas corpus was filed with new background after the first failed.

In the new application Byington's attorney said custody of the Byington children was awarded on Jan. 3 to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byington of Licking County, Ohio.

He contends it is physically impossible to obey Zenoff's order since he is in jail and the children's grandmother has refused to relinquish custody of her wards.

The writ application also states that a district judge has no power to confine indefinitely a person until he produces another person who is outside the state.

The lawyer contends that indefinite confinement is in violation of the Nevada Constitution and the 5th and 14th Amendments of the U.S. Constiution.

Bright's Win Over Bloor's Settles City League Leader

George Bright's Real Estate broke the deadlock for first place, which had existed in the City Basketball League, by handing Bloor's a 71-50 setback Monday on the Westgate court.

The victory gave Bright's undisputed possession of first place with a 5-1 record while Bloor's and Wellsville became tied for the second spot with 4-2 marks.

In other games, Wellsville came on in the second half to top Alex's Carry-Out, 56-43, and Professional Mercantile handed the Newell Merchants their sixth straight setback, 67-58.

Four of Bright's starters hit in the double figures to feature a sizzling attack. Wayne Cline's 17 points placed the attack, but George Hale dropped in 16, Joe Anderson 14 and John Watson 11 to spark the offense.

Bloor's, minus its star Herb Lake, received a 25-point performance by Carl Anderson, the former Midland High standout, but this wasn't enough to stop Bright's.

Jim Smith, the Little All-American from Steubenville College, fired in 19 points, including 12 in the third quarter, to lead Wellsville's victory over Alex's. Big Jack Green, a longtime star in the City League, paced Alex's with an 18-point performance.

Ted Robinson and J. Pierce collected 14 points each in leading the Professional Mercantile win. John Kiger was the standout again for Newell with 19 markers.

Authorities said Mrs. Theodore Swintek, 31, and her niece, Karen Panski, were attacked after they got off a bus on the East Side, but neither required hospital treatment.

Mrs. Swintek said gang members using abusive language approached her and her niece but they kept walking. She said she told them to follow her to her home in the belief the group could be dispersed or taken into custody by her husband or aid could be called.

The attack occurred a block from her home. She said she and her niece were punched, kicked and spat upon.

Gambler Charged In Try To Fix Two NCAA Games

RALEIGH, N.C. (AP) — The Wake County grand jury returned a true bill Monday charging Frank (Lefty) Rosenthal of Miami, Fla., and Chicago, with offering to bribe a basketball player to shave points.

Charged along with Rosenthal was David Budin, 28-year-old New Yorker who already is under indictment on charges of conspiring to bribe North Carolina State College players.

Each of the two was charged with two counts of conspiracy to offer to bribe and two counts of bribery.

The indictment said Rosenthal offered $500 to Ray Paprocky, New York University player, to affect the outcome of NYU's game with West Virginia in the 1960 NCAA regionals in Charlotte.

Solicitor Lester Chalmers said West Virginia had been favored to win by five points and NYU won the game 82-81.

The indictment did not specify whether Paprocky received the bribe money.

The indictment charged also that on the same day as the NYU-West Virginia game, March 11, 1960, Rosenthal approached Paprocky on the matter of shaving points in a game to be played a week later between NYU and Ohio State in NCAA semifinals at San Francisco.

Rosenthal's bond was fixed at $50,000. Chalmers said he was believed to be in Miami and would be picked up by police in a few days.

Budin is being detained in New York and no bond was set.

Jenson And Antonelli Announce Retirements

By MIKE RATHET
Associated Press Sports Writer

Jackie Jensen, Boston's RBI rapper and American League Most Valuable Player in 1958, and Johnny Antonelli, one of baseball's first bonus babies, have announced their retirements after major league careers spanning more than a decade.

Jensen's second and apparently final retirement was announced Monday by the Red Sox in Boston, where Vice President Dick O'Connell said, "We knew about this in December but were afriad to announce it then. We were afraid Jensen might change his mind and make liars out of us."

Antonelli, 31, recently acquired by the New York Mets, said at his home in Rochester, N.Y., "I've been thinking of this for a long time and I've made up my mind. The Mets asked me if I would reconsider if they offered me a better contract than the one sent me, but I told them nothing would change my mind."

"I'm tired of traveling," said the pitcher who was paid $52,000 by the then Boston Braves in 1948 when he was only 18, "and I want to be home with my family." Antonelli's wife, Rosemarie, is expecting their fourth child in a few weeks.

Jensen returned to the Red Sox last season and hit .263 with 13 home runs and 66 runs batted in after sitting out the 1960 season.

Jensen, 35, compiled a .279 lifetime batting average in 11 years in the majors, with 199 home runs and 929 RBI. In 1954 and 1955 and from 1957 to 1959 Jensen drove in more than 100 runs and formed a potent 1-2 punch for the Red Sox with Ted Williams.

Jensen, who came to the Red Sox from Washington in 1953 after beginning his career with the New York Yankees, reached the peak of his career in 1958 when he was selected the league's MVP after hitting .286 and rapping 35 home runs, with 122 runs driven in.

Antonelli never made it big with the Braves but blossomed into one of the majors' top winners when he was traded to the then New York Giants after the 1953 season. He had his best year in 1954 with a 21-7 record as the Giants won the National League pennant.

Anty also won 20 in 1956 when he was 20-13 in New York and won 19 in 1959 when the Giants had moved to San Francisco. He was traded to Cleveland after the 1960 season, was released by the Indians and picked up by the Braves, who sold him to the Mets.

Air Force's New Enlistment Plans Will Aid Recruits

T-Sgt. James A. Lee, area Air Force recruiter in the City Hall, announced today that the Air Force has taken the lid off enlistments.

A special Air Force entrance test will be held at the recruiter's office Thursday at 10 a. m. Further details may be obtained by calling him at FU. 6-4502.

He announced that an increase in the number of men and women who may enlist in the Air Force was put into effect by Headquarters, USAF Recruiting Service. For the first time in 18 months, applicants now may qualify, apply and enlist almost immediately.

With the current emphasis on aerospace, most of the 250 Air Force schools throughout the country have vacancies, he said.

For persons who have served recently in the Air Force or any other service current regulations permit enlistment with more than one dependent.

It is one of the many changes in the prior service program. In addition, for the first time in the history of the Air Force, ranks from airman third class through master Sergeant are offered prior servicemen who meet immediate needs.

No Cause For Alarm, People On Creek Told

FRANKLIN, Ohio (AP)—While a number of families have left their homes along Twin Creek due to rising water, there is no cause for alarm, the Warren County sheriff's department said Monday night.

The Twin Creek flood was blamed on an ice jam. Efforts to clear the ice jam by blasting it with dynamite were halted Monday because of the high water.

Nevada Supreme Court Rules Ohioan Can Be Freed On Bail

CARSON CITY, Nev. (AP)—The Newark, Ohio, man who has been sitting in a Las Vegas jail since Dec. 12 of last year on an indefinite hold can be freed on bail, the state Supreme Court ruled Monday.

The court ruled Robert Byington Jr. must post $2,000 with the Supreme Court and appear Feb. 22 in Carson City on his hearing for a writ of habeas corpus.

Dist. Judge David Zenoff ordered Byington jailed for contempt of court until he produced his two oldest children in the Clark County court.

Byington came to Las Vegas in May to bring home his three children who were with his estranged wife, Patricia. He returned to Newark with his 8 and 6-year-old daughters. In November of last year he came West again to bring back the youngest child but was stopped by sheriff's deputies.

The Supreme Court Monday ordered Clark County Sheriff Ralph Lamb to appear on Feb. 22 to show cause why Byington should not be granted the writ.

The second application for a writ of habeas corpus was filed with new background after the first failed.

In the new application Byington's attorney said custody of the Byington children was awarded on Jan. 3 to his parents, Mr. and Mrs. Robert Byington of Licking County, Ohio.

He contends it is physically impossible to obey Zenoff's order since he is in jail and the children's grandmother has refused to relinquish custody of her wards.

The writ application also states that a district judge has no power to confine indefinitely a person until he produces another person who is outside the state.

The lawyer contends that indefinite confinement is in violation of the Nevada Constitution and the 5th and 14th Amendments of the U.S. Constiution.

Billy Graham's Denied Baseball Park For Service

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (AP)—Billy Graham has been denied permission to hold an Evangelical service in the city baseball stadium.

Mayor Ricardo Gonzalez said he withdrew permission because an advance group had been "proselytizing and propagandizing" for Graham's crusade in violation of the constitution.

Gonzalez said that only the Roman Catholic Church is allowed to propagandize in Colombia. Supporters of the American Baptist Evangelist have been distributing pamphlets and posting signs, the mayor said.

German Rocca, a layman who helped arrange for the American's crusade in Colombia, said Gonzalez' action was due to "pressure of the Roman Catholic bishop of Barranquilla."

It "makes a joke of constitutional provisions and places us before other nations as an extremist country," Rocca wrote in a letter to Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo.

Graham, who is on a Latin American tour, is due in Barranquilla Saturday. He is now in Venezuela.

Billy Graham's Denied Baseball Park For Service

BARRANQUILLA, Colombia (AP)—Billy Graham has been denied permission to hold an Evangelical service in the city baseball stadium.

Mayor Ricardo Gonzalez said he withdrew permission because an advance group had been "proselytizing and propagandizing" for Graham's crusade in violation of the constitution.

Gonzalez said that only the Roman Catholic Church is allowed to propagandize in Colombia. Supporters of the American Baptist Evangelist have been distributing pamphlets and posting signs, the mayor said.

German Rocca, a layman who helped arrange for the American's crusade in Colombia, said Gonzalez' action was due to "pressure of the Roman Catholic bishop of Barranquilla."

It "makes a joke of constitutional provisions and places us before other nations as an extremist country," Rocca wrote in a letter to Colombian President Alberto Lleras Camargo.

Graham, who is on a Latin American tour, is due in Barranquilla Saturday. He is now in Venezuela.

Junior Editors Quiz on WHITE HOUSE

QUESTION: Was the White House always white?

ANSWER: Whenever anyone talks about the White House there can be only one place that means the same to everyone: The White House, the home of the President of the United States. This building is located on Pennsylvania Avenue in Washington, D. C. The idea for it came from George Washington who felt that there should be a home especially intended for the President during his term of office. The first President to live in the house was John Adams. It was a three-story building of moderate size, and was built of yellow sandstone. To give it a better appearance, it was subsequently painted white, and has had a white finish ever since. The White House, incidentally, belongs to the American people and thousands upon thousands visit and tour it each year. It was completely renovated between 1948 and 1952 and has many new features. But the big historic rooms characteristic of its first day as a presidential residence remain unchanged.

FOR YOU TO DO: Most reference books have pictures of the White House and you can get a good idea of what it looks like from such illustrations. There are many good books telling interesting stories of the families who lived there and how their lives were affected by the famous mansion.

How Can I?

By ANNE ASHLEY

Q. What do you recommend for invisible mending" of clothes?

A. These commercial paste - on patches (sold by the yard or package) are life-savers for all sorts of cottons. You press them to the torn fabric with a hot iron, according to the manufacturer's directions. Properly applied, these paste-ons withstand quite a few launderings.

Q. How can I preserve the glossy finish on certain sateen or cotton materials when washing them?

A. Add a little borax to the rinsing water, and this will help to retain that sheen.

Q. How can I clean some French jewelry that has become tarnished?

A. You can clean and polish this with any good toothpaste.

Q. What can I do when ink has been spilled on a rug?

A. Blot it up as quickly as you can. If you can't find enough blotters, use newspapers. Apply salt to the stain, and brush it off in a second or so. Add more salt, and brush off. When all the ink is absorbed by the on-again-off-again method of applying salt, wash the stain with soapy water, and then rinse and let dry.

Q. Is there any way I can repair a small leak in a pan or bucket?

A. Turn the receptacle upside down, cover the leak with a little powdered sulphur, heat an old knife blade until it is very hot, and spread on the sulphur around the leak with this hot blade.

Q. How can I renovate shoes that have become hard and stiff from a soaking in the rain?

A. You can soften them by first washing in warm water, then rubbing either glycerin or castor oil thoroughly into the leather.

Q. How can I improve the appearance of a gilded clock?

A. Try rubbing it with a cloth dampened with alcohol or turpentine.

Senate Group To Sift Coal Pipeline Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Activity on the coal pipeline issue shifted today to the Senate side of the Legislature, where the Judiciary Committee had a hearing scheduled after Senate adjournment.

Senate Judiciary, headed by Sen. Arch W. Riley, D-Ohio, was to question witnesses for and against the pipeline who have appeared at three previous hearing sessions on the hotly debated subject.

First there was the public hearing last Thursday night, conducted jointly by the Senate and House Judiciary committees. Last Friday and again yesterday, House Judiciary had witnesses back for further questioning in the committee room.

After yesterday's three - hour hearing session on the pipeline, House Judiciary Chairman H. Laban White Jr., D-Harrison, said his committee had voted not to act on the issue before Thursday.

Both committees have before them administration bills to give coal pipeline companies the power to seek right of way by condemnation proceedings in court and to put them under Public Service Commission regulation.

Passage of the bills is sought by backers of a project to build a coal slurry pipeline from northern West Virginia mines to the East Coast. The Consolidation Coal Co. and the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. are the main companies interested in the project.

In addition to the pipeline bills, House Judiciary has before it a resolution to set up a between-sessions study commission to examine the pipeline proposals. The resolution would put off a decision while a study was made between the current session and the 60-day session which begins in January 1963.

The Senate had up for passage today a bill to lower from 18 to 16 the minimum age for taking part in area vocational education programs. The legislation was proposed by the Department of Education as one means of coping with the problem of high school dropouts.

Also awaiting Senate passage votes were two bills to authorize contracts with a non-profit insurance company not licensed in West Virginia to provide supplemental retirement benefits for personnel of state universities and colleges.

A bill to extend the insurance premium tax at its present 3-per-cent level for another fiscal year was among three bills up for House passage. Without legislation the premium tax rate would drop to its former 2-per-cent level after June 30.

Also awaiting House action was a resolution seeking authorization to introduce a bill to discontinue Bluefield State College and convert it into a center for vocational rehabilitation training.

Senate Group To Sift Coal Pipeline Bill

CHARLESTON, W. Va. (AP) — Activity on the coal pipeline issue shifted today to the Senate side of the Legislature, where the Judiciary Committee had a hearing scheduled after Senate adjournment.

Senate Judiciary, headed by Sen. Arch W. Riley, D-Ohio, was to question witnesses for and against the pipeline who have appeared at three previous hearing sessions on the hotly debated subject.

First there was the public hearing last Thursday night, conducted jointly by the Senate and House Judiciary committees. Last Friday and again yesterday, House Judiciary had witnesses back for further questioning in the committee room.

After yesterday's three - hour hearing session on the pipeline, House Judiciary Chairman H. Laban White Jr., D-Harrison, said his committee had voted not to act on the issue before Thursday.

Both committees have before them administration bills to give coal pipeline companies the power to seek right of way by condemnation proceedings in court and to put them under Public Service Commission regulation.

Passage of the bills is sought by backers of a project to build a coal slurry pipeline from northern West Virginia mines to the East Coast. The Consolidation Coal Co. and the Texas Eastern Transmission Corp. are the main companies interested in the project.

In addition to the pipeline bills, House Judiciary has before it a resolution to set up a between-sessions study commission to examine the pipeline proposals. The resolution would put off a decision while a study was made between the current session and the 60-day session which begins in January 1963.

The Senate had up for passage today a bill to lower from 18 to 16 the minimum age for taking part in area vocational education programs. The legislation was proposed by the Department of Education as one means of coping with the problem of high school dropouts.

Also awaiting Senate passage votes were two bills to authorize contracts with a non-profit insurance company not licensed in West Virginia to provide supplemental retirement benefits for personnel of state universities and colleges.

A bill to extend the insurance premium tax at its present 3-percent level for another fiscal year was among three bills up for House passage. Without legislation the premium tax rate would drop to its former 2-per-cent level after June 30.

Also awaiting House action was a resolution seeking authorization to introduce a bill to discontinue Bluefield State College and convert it into a center for vocational rehabilitation training.
